

The Springfield Sun.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF, WASHINGTON COUNTY

VOLUME I.

SPRINGFIELD, KY., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1905.

52 NUMBER 52

LAST APPEAL

Made to Burley Tobacco Growers—Control of Crop Sought.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 15.—The Ohio and Kentucky Burley Tobacco Growers' Company, which was organized about a month ago for the purpose of securing better prices for the kind of tobacco which they raise, issued today from its main office at Cincinnati and its branch office here, a final appeal to the growers. In this appeal it is stated that if enough contracts are not signed by November 25 to guarantee control of the crop the organization will be abandoned and those who have signed or taken stock in the enterprise will be released from their obligations. An option for ten days is what the managers of the organization ask of the producers.

The managers of the branch office here state that reports from the Louisville and Cincinnati markets show a decline of nearly one-third from the prices realized last year.

Archibald Hamilton, manager of the organization's Lexington office, stated today that if the organization can succeed in getting control of this year's crop it is believed that it can raise the price from five to ten cents a pound on white Burley, which he estimates will give the growers of the forty counties which produce this kind of tobacco a profit of $8,000,000 over what they would otherwise receive.

At the organization of the company here about a month ago Archibald Stuart, of Cincinnati, was elected president, and is now at the head of its forces.

The following circular letter has been issued to Burley tobacco growers:

"The time has come for you to decide two things—first, the sale of your crop of tobacco; secondly, the complete organization of the Burley Company. In signing Contract A, you do these two things: You put your organization on a solid basis, strong enough to protect you not only this year, but for years to come, and to get a much better price for your tobacco than you can get from any one else or in any other way.

"Contract A is now ready. The prices are fair and liberal. If you ever intend to stand up for your rights as a Burley grower, now is your time; there is no time for delay.

"The proposition is that you take in pay for your crop 75 per cent. in cash and 25 per cent. in the preferred stock of this company, a dividend of 8 per cent. being guaranteed out of the first earnings of the company before any one else is paid out of profits.

"If you do your duty and stand by this contract, this 25 per cent. of stock that you take will be very valuable. What you should do at once is to read Contract A over carefully, and if you do not understand, go at once and ask W. H. Booker, the local chairman of the Burley Growers Company to explain. He will do it fully and clearly; then if you do not sign the contract, remember you are standing with the trust to defeat your own interest; and if you are determined to do that, no power on earth can save you. But if you want to really help yourself, get a clear understanding of this contract and sign it. We have neither time nor money to employ five hundred men all over the Burley district to labor with you for ten or fifteen days begging you to do something for yourself. Here is the opportunity. If you do not grasp it there is no law to compel you; but, remember, if you are not for us you are against us. There is no possible way you can be hurt in signing the contract. If this company does not comply with the contract on the date named, you are at perfect liberty to sell to whom you please, and you are not damaged one cent; but if you do not sign, the responsibility rests with you. Yours truly,

"KENTUCKY & OHIO BURLEY TOBACCO GROWERS CO."

Saved By Dynamite.
Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her; so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her. I bought a scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At C. J. Haydon's drug store, price 60c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free."

DISTRESSING

Accident Results in Death of Little Daughter of Mr. J. T. Burdett.

Lebanon Enterprise: One of the most distressing accidents that has occurred in this county for years happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burdett, on the Miller pike about five miles from Lebanon, Wednesday afternoon, and resulted in the death of their three-year-old daughter, George Clo.

At a time when the little one was in a room with no one other than a baby one year old, her clothing caught fire from the grate. Her screams brought her mother from an adjoining room, but the child was a mass of flames when she entered the door. She succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not until her daughter had been so terribly burned that death relieved her suffering at 6 o'clock, three hours after the accident had occurred. Mrs. Burdett's hands were badly burned as a result of her heroic efforts to save the child's life. Her clothing, too, caught fire, but the old negro cook who followed her into the room, put out the fire while the mother was trying to extinguish the flames on her daughter's clothing.

It is not known just how the child's clothing became ignited. The baby was on the floor immediately in front of the fire and it is supposed she attempted to pass between the fire and the child on the floor.

Death of Mrs. Osbourne.

Mrs. Miles Osbourne, one of the county's most loved and honored women, died at her home in the St. Rose neighborhood last Friday afternoon of pneumonia. Mrs. Osbourne was a devout member of the Catholic church, and there are few women who were more admired and loved than she. She was gentle and kind, and her acquaintances soon became her staunch friends.

Mrs. Osbourne was a Miss Hamilton, and before her marriage resided in Marion county. She was in her sixty-third year, and since she was married had lived in Washington county. Besides a husband Mr. Osbourne leaves seven children, two brothers and three sisters. She was a devoted mother and a devoted wife. The funeral and interment occurred at St. Rose Sunday. As an evidence of the esteem in which this good woman was held one of the largest crowds that ever attended a funeral at St. Rose was in attendance.

Cling to Infidel Belief.

Lexington, Ky., November 19.—Yesterday's issue of the Bluegrass Blade, of which C. C. Moore is editor, and who is now visiting in this city, is made of the report that the noted infidel had recanted and rejoined the Church of the Disciples, of which he was once a minister. It had been published in a local paper that Evangelist James Small, who is holding a meeting at the Broadway Christian church, has stated that Mr. Moore had returned to the church, which Mr. Small denied.

MT. ZION.

Mr. John Hood was in Springfield last Saturday.

Mrs. Ben Coll entertained at dinner last Tuesday, Mesdames Kate Williams, Mattie Banney and Mollie Williams.

Mrs. D. B. Sutherland and daughters, Misses Eva and Gracie, spent Saturday and Sunday in Louisville.

Rosco Seay visited in Chapin Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. R. M. Graham, of Louisville, is visiting her father, Mr. J. B. Hays. Mrs. Graham and sister attended the entertainment given by Miss Eleanor Hays at Bloomfield Saturday evening.

Mrs. K. E. Williams spent Monday in Springfield.

Miss Carrie Russell spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Neale, of Chapin Fork.

Mr. Ezra Goodlett and wife, who were recently married, removed to Lawrenceburg last Monday where they will go to housekeeping.

Mr. J. B. Williams, of Midway, was in our vicinity last Monday afternoon. Jordan Phillips, a little colored boy, met with a very painful accident Friday morning. While swinging to the side of a loaded wagon he fell and the wagon passed over his body. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

THE CAPITALIST

I always buy at the lollipop shop, on the very first day of spring. A hat of marbles, a spinning top, and a pocketful of string.

—St. Nicholas.

REVOLUTION

Has Been Wrought in the Conscience of Men—Gov. Folk's Message to the People of the United States.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—Gov. Folk and Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, were the guests of honor at the monthly dinner here tonight of the Knife and Fork Club.

Gov. Folk, in the course of his speech, said: "The next few years will be distinguished as the time in which industrial troubles are settled, the reign of special privileges brought to an end, the recognition of the doctrine of equal rights in national politics and in the conscience of mankind. We are in the midst of the most dramatic period of American history, the period in which the people's rights are to be defined and observed as they never have before."

"There have been great reform movements in the days gone by, but they were local; the vampires of graft were driven away and remained but a season, and then returned after the waves of public indignation had spent their fury. The present day presents a situation of brighter promise of our vision. Reform shows signs of becoming universal instead of local and transitory."

"Will it last? is the question. Will not the people soon forget and allow things to continue in the same old way? I answer, no. Revolutions never go backward, and this is a revolution that has been wrought in the conscience of men."

The present movement, Gov. Folk said, did not mean the destruction, but rather the putting of the organization of political parties on a higher plane.

American Horses for Japan.

Louisville Herald: A tip for horse breeders in Kentucky is offered by consular reports from Japan. The American horse is in much demand there.

The Japanese horse is an undersized beast, fourteen hands high. The Japanese is utterly unequal to the demands made upon him. All the horses serviceable to any extent for war purposes were impressed in the last contest. There is thus a widespread demand for good horses all over Japan.

Kentucky has the best horses in the world. Representatives of the Japanese Government have already visited this State. Some good horses have been already purchased here for stud purposes by the Government, but it will be a long time before the general demand for horses in Japan can thus be supplied. For farming and for hauling purposes the need is very urgent, and the American horse can fill the bill better than any other animal of that class.

Kentucky should work up a splendid paying trade with the Oriental empire. The Kentucky horse is a conquering beast. Easily the best of his kind, the Kentucky horse will, once given a foothold, drive all competitors out of the field in Asia.

A Farm For Sale.

I desire to sell my farm, known as the Jno. S. McElroy farm, situated on mile from town on the Williamsburg pike. It contains 102 acres, and is the best farm, site considered, in the county. Has on it a large, new tobacco barn, three good tenant houses, plenty of water, orchard, and, in fact, everything that goes to make up a first-class farm.

LUTHER BURNS.

Death of Miss Boone.

Miss Annie C. Boone, aged twenty-four years, died at the home of her mother here this morning at 3 o'clock, after a brief illness of pneumonia. The funeral will occur to-morrow at the Catholic church, interment in St. Dominic cemetery. Sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved mother.

Entertainment at Fenwick.

On next Saturday night, Nov. 25, the young men of Fenwick will give an entertainment at the Mayes' school house. It will be in the nature of a minstrel, with graphophone and banjo music. Mr. Bert Fenwick will be one of the leading speakers. Doors open at 7 o'clock. Admission, 10c and 15c.

JENSONTON.

Miss Lura Bell Kimberlin, of Texas, spent Saturday night with Miss Ada Arnold.

Miss Georgie Coanougher spent Saturday night with Miss Lufisha Carpenter.

Miss Georgie Coanougher was in Jewett Thursday on business.

Mr. G. W. Key sold to Elmer Yankey a horse for $75.

Mr. J. W. Perkins has received his line of Christmas goods.

Mr. Ope Pope and father purchased of A. W. Arnold 100 acres of land for $1800.

Mrs. Sarah Elliott and Mrs. A. W. Arnold, of this place, spent Thursday with Mrs. Henrietta Elliott.

Miss Pearl Sparrow entertained a crowd of young people Saturday night at her home.

John Milburn went to Louisville last Saturday where he has secured a position.

A CONDEMNED MAN

Robert L. Metcalfe in "The Commoner."

If I had ever believed in capital punishment I am sure that my observations at Corning, Arkansas, would have converted me. Being a correspondent in a neighboring town for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, I was detailed to report the execution of L. Bent Taylor. I arrived at Corning the night before the hanging took place and spent the night with the condemned man. It was only natural that those experiences should make a marked impression upon one of my age; yet subsequent experiences and observations have not confirmed my opinion to the infliction of the death penalty.

Physically, Taylor was a fine specimen of manhood.

He did not look like an assassin. Yet while he claimed that he was innocent of the particular crime for which he was to be executed, he admitted that he had killed several men, for which crimes he had not been called to account. I do not mean to undertake—and, in truth, I am incapable of giving—a recital of the experiences of that night. During all the long hours—and they were the longest that I have ever spent—Taylor sat with the Bible in his hand. There grew up between him and myself what seemed to be a strong and stalwart friendship. It is strange how closely one may be drawn to a fellow being in a short time under such circumstances. He did not expect to die. He really believed that the Governor would reprieve him, and every time the door was opened he looked up, evidently expecting that the message had arrived. "I shall never forget the dawn of that day. I was perhaps awaiting the looked-for message as anxiously as was the convicted man himself. It was at the first sight of sunshine that Taylor, settling himself comfortably in his chair, said: 'Well, it will be here soon, now.' And, turning to me, he added: 'We want have to worry much longer, old fellow.' Ten minutes later we found that there was no necessity for 'worrying much longer.' The message came, and it was the mere announcement that the Governor would not interfere and that the execution must proceed.

It was plain that the condemned man, at his own request, was not averse to sympathy, and perhaps for the first time in that many years of his ill-spent life he appreciated the companionship of one who, while finding no excuse for his crimes, pitied him for his fate. At his urgent invitation, I rode beside him to the gallows. Just before he died I bade him good-bye and hurried away to send my dispatches. While I was greatly disturbed by the experiences through which I had passed, I was, after all, glad that I had received the assignment, because there was then, and is now, ringing in my ears the words of that dying man who was strong and brave to the last: 'Good-bye, old fellow. I'm mighty glad you came. You helped me a whole lot, and you've been a good friend to me in these last hours.'"

I had only known the man for perhaps twenty-four hours, but it seemed to me like a lifetime, and I did not doubt then, as I do not doubt now, what would happen should I ever come to pass that I had the power to save a human life.

If the time will yet come when civilized society will set itself squarely against the death penalty. Men will yet be forced to admit, as they must now, that you, that you take a sword and draw it. An' go stick a feller thru. God 'most ain't to answer for it—God'll send the bill to you."

A Democratic Measure.

Bryans Commoner: I during the Ohio campaign Senator Foraker said: "The proposition to give the power of making rates to the interstate commerce commission is a democratic measure. It is in the democratic platform. The republicans refused to put that plank in their platform."

The people of Ohio appear to have taken Senator Foraker at his word. They have, by an overwhelming majority, endorsed the democratic measure.

Mrs. August Scollie was burned to death and her husband fatally injured in a fire at their home at North Clarendon, Pa.

James E. Kern, one of the best-known horsemen in Central Kentucky, has been a general assignment at Paris.

HUNTING PERILS

M. C. Ford Fatally Shot by Son—George Thomas, S. Buckner Duncan and Chas. Reed Are Also Victims.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 15.—As a result of the opening of the hunting season in Kentucky to-day, two men lie seriously wounded at their homes near the city.

M. C. Ford was standing in front of his young son's gun when the youth attempted to shoot at a rabbit. The father received the contents of the gun in his abdomen. There are fifty-seven holes in his body and he will probably die.

George Thomas was walking along the road, when he was shot down by Forest Miller, who had missed a quail, and the shot struck Thomas in the neck. His condition is serious.

It is estimated that ten thousand birds were killed in this (Davies) county to-day.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 15.—While hunting quail this afternoon with H. F. Stovall, near Rockfield, this county, S. Buckner Duncan, of this city, was accidentally shot. The load from one barrel of Stovall's gun struck Mr. Duncan's right arm, between the elbow and shoulder, and it may have to be amputated.

George Claypool, of this city, tonight received information that his brother, Clarence, formerly of this city, but now of Paducah, had a hand blown off by the accidental discharge of a gun while hunting near Dyersburg, Tenn., to-day.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 15.—A message from Hawsaville says that Andrew Keown, aged fifteen years, was found dead in the woods of Hancock county late this afternoon. His discharged gun was at his side and there was a wound in his breast. He was returning home when his gun was accidentally discharged.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Nov. 15.—Charles Reed, aged thirteen, went hunting, and, it is supposed, accidentally shot himself. He was found dead in a cornfield with a shotgun by his side. His faithful dog was keeping watch by the body.

Nortonville, Ky., November 18.—Alvin Dillingham was fatally shot this afternoon by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. Dillingham was climbing a stump with the gun in his hand and slipped, causing the gun to explode, the entire charge entering his bowels.

FENWICK.

Farmers are about through gathering corn and tobacco stripping is all the go. Mrs. Fannie and Sallie Hall, of Hardin's Creek, are visiting their parents this week, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Simms.

We are going to have good roads now. The overseers have and haul metal and gravel. We believe this will be much cheaper to the county and will also be the means of saving the poor horse many hard pulls.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hardin was very ill Friday with membrane croup.

Several from this place attended the baptizing at Bethlehem Saturday evening.

Born to the wife of Creed Settles, on the 9th, a girl.

Miss Verena Rodgers visited her parents at this place Saturday and Sunday. I hope all the correspondents will send in their letters, as I delight in hearing from them.

Your correspondent took great pleasure in reading "The Sun's" little sermon. After one read it they had to say that it was not so "unwed" after all. We hope you may preach many sermons.

Notice, Taxpayers.

County and State taxes for 1905 are due and must be paid at once. After December 1 penalty will be added. All persons owing back taxes must settle, or their property will be advertised for sale. My term in office expires January 1, and all business must be settled.

BYRON CROAKE, S. W. C.

Dispatches from Baltimore under date of November 5 say that that city was visited by six well defined earthquakes.

Keep Your Feet Dry

Through the winter, this is just as essential to good health as is "dry powder" to the success of the army.

Our Felt Boots For Men and Boys

Will unquestionably keep your feet dry. They are the best to be had, and at the lowest prices. Our stock of rubber goods is complete in every particular. Full line of heavy shoes.

Rain Coats

We have a nice line of men's Rain-coats and McIntoshes which we are offering at very low prices.

Special Prices

We will make you a special low price on a matting now. We have about fifteen rolls, which we are very anxious to close out to make room for other goods. If you are needing a matting, now is the time to buy.

Clothing Sales

Have been large, but we have kept up the stock by ordering and re-ordering, and we still have a complete line

Grundy & McIntire.

Raising Good Horses.

Plenty of good advice is to be heard and read with regard to the best methods of breeding for the production of horses that will bring a good price in the market or render efficient service on the farm or on the road, but generally this advice stops far short of the point where the most good could be accomplished. Of course it goes without saying that a good horse cannot be made from an ill bred foal, but it is just as true that the best bred colt will not make as good a horse as he might without the best of feed from the time of foaling until the age of maturity is reached.

Too often the brood mares are worked on short rations after the foal is dropped, and after weaning the farmer has an idea that the colt can be "roughed" through the same as his young cattle, and the result is that at one year of age the colt is about as well developed as it should have been at weaning time, and no matter what the feed or care given during succeeding years the result will be a small, ill developed horse of little commercial value and less satisfaction to the owner.

The dairyman finds that the only time to insure a well developed heifer is before she drops her first calf, and consequently he is liberal with his feed at that time. The sheep breeder knows that the only way to have large, well developed individuals is to grow them while they are young. The commercial feeder knows the value of early development and is found to be willing to pay the extra price which animals with this advantage always bring in the market. The horse breeder must also recognize this principle if he would make any money at the business. The foal not only needs liberal feeding during the fall and winter months, but it needs a feed that is high in protein and is not too heavy. Regular and careful feeding of such a ration, with plenty of exercise, will go far toward making a good horse of the ordinary foal.—Michigan Farmer.

Judge Barker, of the Court of Appeals, handed down a decision in which he held that the arbitrary expulsion of a pupil by trustees furnished ground for legal redress.

Hides Wanted!

I want all kinds of hides and furs. Bring them to me and get cash for them. For the next two weeks I will pay

9½c

For Green Beef Hides, Or.

10½c

For Salted Hides. Bring them to me

M. H. Jones.

THE NEW ROAD

Looking Good to the People of Springfield, Says Harrodsburg Democrat.

Harrodsburg Democrat: The people living along the lower end of the Cumberland & Northern Railway route—the new proposed electric road which is to run from the Cumberland river to a tap with the Southern and Q. & C. roads—seem to be waging up to the fact that the road is quite likely to be built, and that it is going to be a great factor in the development of this part of the county. The Lebanon Falcon says "the building of a new road is almost an assured fact."

Some people of Harrodsburg and Mercer county might learn a valuable lesson from the situation at Springfield, where the people are now realizing what they missed by not encouraging the new road, and are now trying to remedy the mistake. It is probably too late, and Springfield may be left out in the cold. A lot of people down at Springfield did just like a lot of people hereabouts. They hosted at the wildest scheme, made fun of those who were willing to help, refused to aid or encourage the enterprise in any way. They said that if the road wanted to come this way it would come without any help. They were very smart people. They had that kind over at Danville once, and that good town lost the L. and N. railroad. They had that kind down at Springfield, and it looks as if that thrifty little city had lost the C. & N. railroad.

Wonder if that same kind will cause the new road to leave Harrodsburg out, in spite of all that the "boomers" can do?

A Folding Door Sate.

Folding doors between communicating rooms are seldom closed. An ordinary chair within a few feet of the space never looks well. It shows its back to one room or the other and is in the way. The settee illustrated here is an addition to any decorative arrangement of either room. It does not interfere with any graceful drapery that may be arranged at the door. It is decidedly useful, convenient and gives a certain touch of the unusual and elegant to the room. Of course it is readily rolled to some other position when it is desired to close the sliding doors. A settee of this kind is not difficult to fashion, and a very pretty one could easily be made and upholstered at home.

A CONVENIENT SEAT.

Work Soiled Hands.

If a girl works around a typewriter during the day or handles dirty goods the hands are thoroughly begrimed by night, the dirt working in as the perspiration opens the pores. If there is no running water at her elbow she should leave them unmoved until she reaches home. Putting on gloves soils the latter for any further use and dries the hands. Wash the hands in tepid water holding a teaspoonful of ammonia. Scrub well with castile soap and a stiff brush. Borax soap dries the skin too much after excessive perspiration. Always keep half a lemon on the washstand with which to rub the hands and nails after the first dirt has been removed. The hands should be scrubbed again well before retiring or while bathing in the morning. This is the only means of getting the grime and discoloration entirely out of the flesh each day. A sulphur match dipped in water and rubbed on the spot will remove ink stains.

The Children's Scrapbook.

The scrapbook is a pleasant and educative aid to indigest the children. The future years are likely to be the outcome of the child's life in his scrapbook. There should be some device means of expression for the child's train of thought.

One enjoys the pictures of locomotives. The future year find him a railway magnet. One finds the pictures of buildings a matter of constant pleasure, and no doubt time will register him as an architect. Birds interest another child, and it may quicken in him the spirit of ornithology. Give your child a scrapbook and see what his tastes are, and if he does not have natural interest in one perhaps a little of your attention will help to awaken latent powers. Foster the originalities of your child as much as you can.

Up and Down Clark's Run.

(Written for The Sun.)

How near to my heart are the scenes of Scenes which from memory can never depart: Undimmed by the sorrows, the grief and the tears, Which have shadowed the pathway of life's later years. They come like the rainbow which follows the storm, On memory reflected with colors as warm, And with dreams of delight they picture to me the form I had long ago when I fished in Clark's Run.

With my can full of worms, my heart full of joy, Up and down the old stream a barefooted boy, A truant from home and the cares of the day, To the deep-shaded stream where the rippling play, As they flowed o'er beds of smooth polished stones, Sang a melody sweet in soft monotonies, From the dawn of the day to setting sun.

What pleasure I had when I fished in Clark's Run. With a pole and a hook and a line, And in my pants pocket a long piece of twine, On which I could string if I fished for a week Every trout I might catch up and down the old creek.

With one gallow to pants that were rolled to my knee, And holes in my hat through which you could see, Where the sunbeams had turned my light hair to dun, I hid me away to the banks of Clark's Run.

There I baited my hook and threw out my line, Watched cork go under with rapture And felt just as proud as a prince or a king, Though seldom, if ever, I caught a darned thing. But unnumbered now are the strands

In the hairs of my head since I fished in Clark's Run.

O, who can there be with a heart in his breast Could forget the dear scenes which so lovingly rest In the bosom when life has grown old and cold, And feel no sadness when such pictures unfold, And would not lot out forever from memory's page The record of childhood which solace old age? Till time ends with me and with life I condone, I'll hallow the days when I fished in Clark's Run.

—E. N. Jones.

Drawing the Line.

Mr. Jumbo—But why are you in such a hurry to go in? Miss Ellie—Because mother says it is most indecorous to sit in a hammock with a gentleman who weighs more than half a ton.—Browning's Magazine.

The Pennsylvania State board of Pardons has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of James W. Ezell, the young Kentuckian recently convicted of murder.

WORMS

All children complain of headaches, stomachaches, and that "their stomachs hurt," and that they "feel good."

This complaint is a common one and the trouble is almost invariably due to pin worms.

Children haven't the strength to combat the deplored condition without the aid of some reliable medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

(Laxative)

is an unfailing, harmless and absolute cure for worms, stomach and bowel troubles, and can be used as freely for either baby or the bigger child, as for full grown folk.

If your child seems indisposed, feverish, fretful, peevish, and all out of sorts, these are symptoms of worms. One dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin as directed, the dejected condition will soon give way to health and vigor. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists.

Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you. Your postal card request will bring by return a bottle of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPsin and a free sample of the "BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to the doctor tried the wonderful remedy. Write today.

PEPSIN SYRUP CO. Monticello, Illinois

Sold by Red Cross Drug Store.

DURING THE MONTH OF November

The Springfield Sun
Chicago Daily Review
Weekly Courier-Journal

ALL THREE PAPERS

$1.90

The Springfield Sun Publishing Co.,
Springfield, Ky.

Inclosed find $1.90, for which send to my address for one year

The Springfield Sun
The Chicago National Daily Review
The Weekly Courier-Journal

Name.....
Postoffice.....
Rural Route No.....State.....

Gov. Beckham's Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Gov. Beckham has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation: "In accordance with custom, and following the proclamation of the President of the United States, I appoint Thursday, November the thirtieth, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"I request that all business be suspended upon that day, and that all of our people, with due observance of this hallowed and beautiful custom, give praise and honor to the gracious and merciful God, who has so richly blessed us as a nation and as a people. Let us give thanks unto Him not alone with the usual religious ceremonies, but especially with deeds of kindness and generosity to the poor and needy among us, more expressive of gratitude and more pleasing to Him than all else we can do; "In the plenitude of our country's wealth and prosperity, in the marvelous progress it has made under Christian civilization, let us remember that the Divine Teacher has told us in speaking of the virtues, "The greatest among these is charity."

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. "Done at Frankfort this seventeenth day of November, 1905.

"J. C. W. BECKHAM."
By the Governor.
H. V. McCREERY,
Secretary of State.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk in winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by C. J. Haydon.

A Daily Paper Free?

Well, not exactly Free, but the next thing to it. What do you think of this offer? *

The Springfield Sun
and Chicago
National Daily
Review

$1.50
A YEAR.

This offer is open for a limited time only. We can't tell how long we shall have an opportunity to give you such a bargain, so come early.

Pay up your arrearages and a year in advance, and for only 50 cents additional we send you a Daily Newspaper for one year. Think of it!

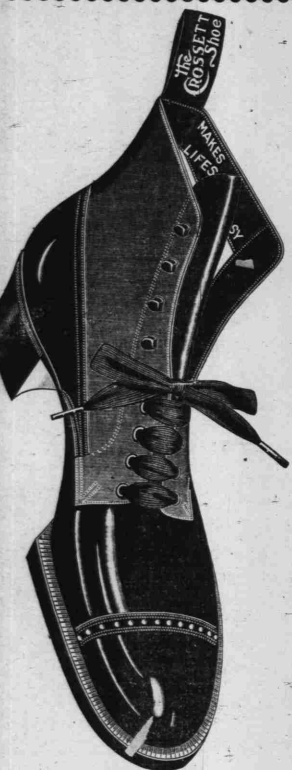

The CHICAGO NATIONAL DAILY REVIEW is a phenomenal success. It is a four-page, seven-column paper, printed in large type on good quality of paper. Started in January, 1905, it already has thousands of subscribers, and it intends to add thousands more in the next few weeks by means of an arrangement with The Sun and other newspapers, such as we have outlined above.

The CHICAGO NATIONAL DAILY REVIEW is published every week day in the year, and contains all the news that's worth remembering. It has a complete market report, excellent reading matter for the family, condensed and readable reports of the world's news, and every day gives its readers a magazine article by one of the high class special writers on its staff.

Remember that the regular price of the CHICAGO NATIONAL DAILY REVIEW is One Dollar per year. For a limited time only, all new subscribers to The Sun who pay a year in advance, and all old subscribers who pay arrearages and a year in advance can get the REVIEW for only 50 cents additional.

Don't wait; now is the time to get a Good Daily Newspaper for the smallest price ever offered.

Address THE SUN, Springfield, Kentucky.

THE CROCKETT
$3.00 TO $5.00
The Best Shoe on Earth.

W. T. LEAGHMAN'S

GENTS' FURNISHING STO E.

A place where you can buy what you WANT at Prices that will Please
you

35 CENTS

A Garment for fleeced lined
Underwear. The best bargain ever offered to the trade of Springfield and Washington county. Other Underwear 50c to $1 a garment.

GLOVES.

Anything from a 10 cent
canvass glove to a $5 fur glove.
You will save money by buying your gloves of me. A large variety from which you may select.

W. T. LEAGHMAN'S

GENTS' FURNISHING STORE.

FASHIONS

Pretty Draped Waist.

A very smart afternoon waist is shown here, evolved in ivory white silk tissue, with deep collar, cuffs and chemise of embroidered mull adorned with small dots of green velvet. A deep crushed girdle of chiffon velvet gives a smart touch as well as the small bows fastened to the front with tiny gold buckles. The model is one which may be made dressy or not, according to the material used in its construction. The chemise may be made removable as well as the cuffs, and a good way to fasten them is by snap fasteners, which will allow them to be removed and put in with less trouble and time than by the usual method of buttoning. The sleeve is a very fetching one, being shirred in deep tucks over the elbow to fit the arm snugly and forming a moderate puff at the top. The front of the waist is shirred along the underarm seam and on the front edges, but with only so much fullness as to become any wearer. A veiling French cashmere, chiffon taffeta or mousseline would be suitable as material.

SMART SILK WAIST.

Styles in Skirts.

Skirts are to continue very wide at the bottom and to be fitted with clinging closeness around the hips, all authorities are agreed, but one cannot tell just what is to be the fate of the skirt and other skirts plaited into the waistband. Assuredly they are neither so new nor so smart as the gored and circular skirt, fitting smoothly over the hips with little if any plaiting or shirring, but attaining wide, rippling fullness at the bottom.

Lace Boleros.

Little boleros of heavy lace or embroidery are details of certain chic empire models, and on the more expensive coats this same handsome trimming is repeated in a deep border around the bottom of the coat, though the cloth coat is more easily left plain or simply finished with braid or stitched bands.

For Fall and Winter.

Nothing makes handsomer suits than broadcloth, and nothing is more fashionable, although chevrons are exceedingly attractive this season and are shown in great numbers. Velvet is well liked, and there are a great many novelties, among which plaid must always be noted. In the illustration is shown a model which is exceedingly chic and smart and which is made of broadcloth in one of the new chevron styles, with collar and cuffs of velvet finished with a tiny edge of crease

BROADCLOTH SUITS.

cloth, but it can be reproduced in any of the materials mentioned. The velvet finish is especially appropriate for chevron and for cloth, while again it might be suggested that a skirt of plaid with a coat of plain color makes one of the accepted features of the season. The coat is a desirable one, buttoned up closely at the neck, which means genuine warmth and protection, while the skirt is slight gored, and each alternate gore is laid in tucks, while those between are laid in inverted plaits below

Public Sale

OF RESIDENCE OF

Sidney Green, Dec'd.

Saturday, November 25, 1905

We will, on the above date, at 2 o'clock, p. m., offer for sale to the highest bidder, the beautiful new 10-room residence, located on the south side of east Main street in the town of Springfield, Ky. This is one of the most desirable homes in Springfield, being new and up-to-date in every respect. Mr. Green had it built under his own supervision, and using nothing but the very best material that money could buy. This house has bath rooms both on first and second floors, electric lights all over the house, a splendid cellar, large front and back porches, 6 large closets and china cabinet, stable, carriage house, smoke house, coal house, and in fact everything necessary for comfort and convenience. Enclosed with new iron fence, has concrete walk in front and around house, yard nicely set in bluegrass, and nice thrifty shade trees planted and growing. This is a beautiful location, near graded school and a place that is complete in every respect. At the same time we offer for sale the lot adjoining this property, fronting on Main street 60 feet and running back about 225 feet to the branch. We will also sell a lot of household furniture. Sale will take place at the house. Terms made known day of sale. For further information call on or address

C. A. GREEN and J. C. McELROY, Admsrs.

Sidney Green, deceased.

A BANKRUPT.

Sheriff-Elect Jno. L. Forsythe Had to Give up—C. D. Thompson Elected Trustee.

Harrodsburg Democrat: Wednesday there was a meeting of the creditors of Mr. John L. Forsythe at the office of Col. E. H. Gaither, and Mr. C. D. Thompson was elected trustee. The petition in bankruptcy for Mr. Forsythe was filed quietly November 1st, and very few people knew of the proceedings until the meeting yesterday.

The claims against Mr. Forsythe amount to about $40,000, being almost wholly made up of security debts for his nephew, Sam Forsythe, and his son, Walter Forsythe. The former went into bankruptcy here several months ago and the latter went into bankruptcy some time ago and went to the branch. Harrodsburg banks are the chief creditors.

The assets amount to about $8,000 in cash, coming from the sale of Mr. Forsythe's farm, after deducting household and mortgage debt. It is estimated that the creditors will get 15 or 20 per cent. of their claims out of the estate. It is stated that Mr. Forsythe has spent two months trying to settle with his creditors, offering them 25 per cent. in settlement, but they would not accept the offer.

John L. Forsythe is the sheriff-elect of Mercer county, and is one of the best known and most popular men in this section. His many friends regret his embarrassment, caused by his generosity in aiding others.

ACTOR

Who Impersonated Jesus Will Spend the Rest of His Days at Gethsemane.

Louisville, Nov. 17.—Otero Nelsonetti, an Italian actor, was in this city this week for a few days previous to his consecration to the Trappist order. He left for Gethsemane Wednesday to take the vows.

From the glitter and applause of the Roman and Florentine theaters, Nelsonetti went to Oberammergau seven years ago to study for the character of the Saviour, in which role he eventually played. When the last passion play was given in 1900 he won the plaudits of the world.

The greatest critics in Europe saw Nelsonetti's admirable portrayal of the role of Jesus and his name was on the lips of all.

The religious fervor which led the actor to give up the gayeties of the Italian cities and take up the cross at Oberammergau increased until he decided to come to America and join the Trappist society in Gethsemane. To the few persons whom he met in this city, and who were favored with his confidence, Signor Nelsonetti imparted the information that he was taking this step only after mature deliberation, and that he believed he would be happy in the seclusion of the monastery.

It is said that the friends and relatives of Signor Nelsonetti strove to dissuade him from the step, but he was firm in his resolve to spend the remainder of his days in the holy but impenetrable precincts of the Gethsemane Abbey.

Cleared for Action.

When the body is cleared for action, by Dr. King's New Life Pills, you can tell it by the bloom on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the frame; the buoyancy of the mind. Try them at C. J. Hayden's drug store, 25 cents.

"Shoot Them!" Cries the Priest.

Chicago, Ill., November 14.—Rev. Father P. J. McDonnell, of St. Mel's Roman Catholic Church, ended an appeal for the most stringent action against "automobile criminals" made to the West Park Board this afternoon by declaring that a man would be justified in killing the "criminal autocrat who would crush out his life."

"That is a strong doctrine to preach, but radical action is needed in dealing with these criminals," said Father McDonnell. "We are here to say that there is a power in this community which is not dependent on mere suffrage, and that is every man's right to act in self-defense. Let us hope that nothing of this sort will become necessary, but unless other than the usual means of dealing with these offenders are not devised this strong action may be resorted to."

The Hen House Yard.

Just as the evenings begin to grow cool in the fall is the time when roost first puts in an appearance. The causes are many. The most frequent and the one for which there is no remedy is the use of birds as lawbreakers that have to roost, writes Margaret C. Daly in Western Poultry Journal.

Do not confound roost with cold. A cold may be treated and stopped and no bad effects follow, but if allowed to develop into roost kill the bird at once. Keep a strict watch on your flock from now on all through the winter and avoid the doing of things that may cause them to take cold.

Often when a beginner has a flock of thoroughbreds he punishes them and injures instead of helping them.

Do not the first cold might close all windows and doors.

If in the same house they will use during the winter and you close all the windows and doors now, how do you expect them to stand it when the thermometer registers from 10 to 20 below, as it did last winter and may this winter also?

Use judgment. Fowls should never roost in a draft-better out of doors than that—but if not in a draft they can stand a great deal of cold.

Let them become accustomed to it gradually, as nature intended they should.

Possibly nites have annoyed them all night or live are making life unpleasant for them during the day. These will so weaken a bird that cold easily develops into roost.

Let us suppose that through carelessness or some other cause some fine morning you discover a chick with a bad cold. Better isolate the bird at once and use preventive measures on the rest of the flock. Put kerosene or one of the good roost cures in the drinking water of the entire flock and allow them no other water. Fight like a little more strenuously. Keep houses cleaner. Disinfect houses with sulphur, and watch carefully for new cases.

As to the sick fowl, if you think it worth while to doctor it give the same medicine you would to a human and a dose as large as you would to a child. For cold in head we have given a tincture that we use for the members of the family, rubbed a good salve or cataplasm on face and wattles and kept in dry, airy coop with feed and water.

A large quantity of mail matter was destroyed by fire in the railroad depot at Erie, Pa.

Five Italians were burned to death in a tenement-house fire in Seventy-third street, New York.

YOUR WINTER COAL!

Now is the time to give us your order. You know we handle the best goods.

McClure & Wells

The Farmer

Will find our line of Buggies, Harness, Farming Implement, etc., complete.

Old Hickory, Studebaker and Champion Farm Wagons are the best. They have stood the test of time; they have been found not wanting in strength and durability, but WANTED by every experienced farmer and wagoner.

Handle the Ohio Feed Cutters, the best in the world.

If you need fencing buy that which has been proven the best,

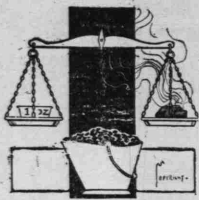

The Page and Elwood Field Fencing.

The Hagan Gasoline Engine

Is noted for its simplicity and strength. "It keeps a-runnin'" This can not be said of other makes of "gasolines". Most of them often refuse to "budge," and that, too, at a time when "budging" is very necessary. Buy the Hagan and you will save Worry, and "Wickidness."

McClure & Wells, Springfield, Ky.

Every Ounce Burns

and gives out its proportionate amount of heat. It's because our coal is from the best coal mines. Everybody knows

There is Difference in Coal.

Some coal is so bad you don't get half the heat from it you ought to. Such coal is far dearer than what we furnish. Get the best and get it of us.

I BUY PRODUCE.

M. H. Jones

SPRINGFIELD SUN

Wednesday, November 22, 1905.

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION, -- ONE DOLLAR.

(In Advance.)

J. ROGERS GORE, Editor and Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Springfield, Ky., for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 112.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

One Year $1.00
Six Months 60
Three Months 30

If in writing to have your address changed always give the postoffice to which your paper is going as well as the postoffice to which you wish it sent.

ONE-YEAR-OLD NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Next Wednesday The Sun will be one year old. Perhaps we will "celebrate" just a little by tooting our own horn. The paper has been safely launched; the bowlders in the track of the seas have been passed, the breakers have become as ripples to the touch of the winds, and it looks like a long voyage, a pretty sea and a fast-sailing ship.

The Danville News announces that "The Beauty Doctors are in Danville for a week's stay." It's the business of these doctors to make women prettier than they really are; or in other words, to smooth down the wrinkles and cover up the defects, such as moles, warts, crooked noses, etc., etc. Kentucky is a darned poor place for such doctors, and we would advise them to go to Indiana, Illinois, or some other State in which the women folk are sadly stricken.

President Roosevelt was elected an honorary member of the National Fox Hunter's Association at Bardstown last week. We do not doubt that Strenuous Teddy could find some amusement in chasing a fox, but it would tickle him more to come face to face with a vicious grizzly.

Col. W. B. Haldeman's candidacy for the United States Senate is announced a little late, but it does happen some times that the early bird fails to catch the worm.

Judge Hargis has decided not to contest the election of his recent opponent for County Judge of Breathitt, who won by a majority of about 500. But, if half of what is said about Judge Hargis is true, the other fellow is pretty certain to "lose out" out after a little while.

THE SUN'S LITTLE SERMON.

Parents, as a general rule, are proud of their boys. They ought to be proud of them to a certain limit. But this thing of allowing your little sonny to pull the wool over your eyes should not be tolerated. Don't be too thoroughly convinced that "seemingly devout" boy of yours won't lie to you whenever he feels it is necessary for him to do so. Very frequently the sparring of the rod is the mapping out of a career for your boy which will some day bring the crimson to your cheeks. We have heard parents say, "Oh, a whipping won't do Johnny any good, he is so determined." This is always said in a sort of a proud spirit--proud of Johnny's determination. That sounds very nice! But in which direction does Johnny's determination run? If he is determined to chop up the wood pile and stack it up in the shed you may well be proud of him, but if he is determined to play hockey from school three days in every week and go hunting, then he needs some of the determination hammered out of him with a well developed hickory. It can be done, too. Hit him with a little force and watch him grab himself. In a boy's early years you can see whether it is going to be necessary to beat "good" into him or not. If he stands upon the streets and casts slurs upon some poor child, with a hole in his coat, keep an eye upon him; he will give you trouble if you are not very careful. Very distinctly do we remember this little episode. A boy who resided out in the country used to bring a load of wood to town two or three times a week. Invariably, when he came into town a certain "determined" youngster would throw rocks at him and cast slurs upon him. The little fellow on the load of wood dodged the rock and laughed at the slurs. But one day the affair came to a beautiful ending. The little country boy rolled off of his load of wood, carrying with him a good sized hickory club, and, after a considerable chase, he caught the "rocking-throwing slur-casting" lad, and dealt him three or four severe raps across the head with his hickory club. As a consequence of this clabbing the boy became unconscious. For a while the case looked serious. The injured boy's daddy had blood in his eye, and did all kinds of wild talking. But the boy got well, and the country boy continued to bring his wood to town, (he was cock of the walk, too.) Right here it may not be out of place to state that the "little country boy" is now the big cashier of a big bank in Iowa, and the boy he clubbed is in the penitentiary for shooting a man in the back. And, nine times out of ten that's just the way such cases turn out.

If Louisville is as tough as the Evening Post and Louisville Herald say she is, we would suggest that Washington county people always "go broke" when they go to Louisville and leave their walches at home.

Mr. Hyde, of the Equitable, ought-er hid.

Marion Notes.

Falcon: Mr. Joseph R. Carrio and Miss Addie L. Blair were married at Raywick, Wednesday.

Joe Phillips and son have sold their fine jack to Dallas Simms for $400. During the past week they have bought thirty suckling colts.

Mrs. Mary Wright, age seventy-nine years, died at her home near Raywick, Tuesday and her remains were laid to rest Wednesday after services at the Methodist church at that place.

Mr. James DeVault, an L. and N. brakeman who lives at Mt. Vernon, was brought to Elizabeth Hospital yesterday morning. His head was badly cut by striking the top of a bridge while he was attending his duties on top of a freight train.

Charlie Wickersham, a fourteen-year-old boy, was brought from his home in Lebanon Junction, to Elizabeth Hospital here yesterday. He is in a critical condition from burns received last August by an explosion of a gasoline stove.

Brown & White, of Pulaski, Tenn., have purchased 101 mules in the vicinity during the past week from the following parties: James and Joe Phillips, fifty-three at $140 per head; Joe Jarboe, eighteen, at $150 per head; Eddie Mont Buckler, thirty, $137.50 per head.

The protracted meeting which has been in progress for the past ten days at the Baptist church, closed last evening after having achieved much good for the community. There were twenty-one additions to the church.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. Sold by C. J. Haydon.

President Roosevelt, in answer to many appeals, has declared his inability to take any steps likely to help the Jews in Russia.

January

—and—
February

Are on the calendar as usual, and the almanac predicts freezes and thaws.

This means lagrip and pneumonia, because people will get their FEET WET. Keep your FEET DRY! That's the Secret, But HOW?

By Wearing Taylor's Shop-made SHOES. They are Guaranteed

A Genuine French Calf Turns the Water.

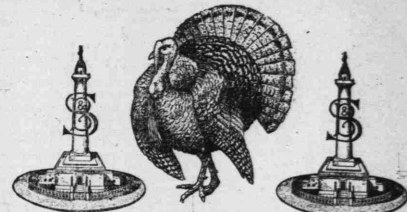

Then these shop-made shoes wear just about three or four times as long as the machine made shoe. Figure it this way: You pay $3.50 for a machine-made shoe; it wears out in four months, and keeps your feet wet through the winter. You buy three pairs a year at a cost $10.50. I will make you a pair of shoes for—

$4.00

They will wear you a year. Substantial and you have a balance of $6.50. Besides your feet are kept dry, and lagrip and pneumonia is ward off.

Come in and let me take your measure.

GEO. TAYLOR
Springfield, Ky.

HIGH-ART CLOTHES for THANKSGIVING

To slip into a "High-Art" Suit or Overcoat on Thanksgiving morning will put you in a good mood to enjoy the day's pleasure.

"SNUGGLE-UP" GREAT COATS to blunt the edge of that cutting wind.

FROCK COATS for ceremonious dinners and "starchy" functions generally.

SACK SUITS in newest stuffs and cut in harmony with the mode of the moment.

TOP COATS that are really "on top" in fabric, fit and finish.

WARM-AS-TOAST OVERCOATS of every cut and cloth, at thin-as-a-wafer prices. Also all the little accessories to lend a bright look here and a smart touch there, in Winter's freshest styles.

Rah! For the American Bird!
ROBERTSON BROTHERS

WILLISBURG.

The pie supper, given at the home of Mrs. Sue Merritt, for the benefit of the Christian church at this place, was well attended. The receipts for the night were $18.75. The dining room was beautifully decorated in ferns and cranberry leaves.

Those on the sick list are Charley Melvory, Mrs. T. J. Miller and Miss Essie Hunsate.

Mrs. Sue Vico and daughter, Viola, visited at the home of Henry Scott's last Saturday and Sunday.

W. B. Shirley and sister, Miss Elizabeth, were in Springfield one day last week, shopping.

Ben McIlvory and family visited his mother, Mrs. Robert McIlvory, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Lula Trent is visiting her sister, Miss Cora Trent, this week.

W. S. Gibbs was in Anderson county last week on business.

Sam Yeager was in our town last Saturday on business.

Frank Browley, of Indiana, is visiting his brother, W. S. Browley, at this place.

Miss Annie Sutton visited her sister, Mrs. Ida Prather, last Saturday and Sunday.

S. E. Harlow, has sold his farm to Dr. Hatchett, of Tatham Springs.

W. L. Jenkins has sold his farm to John Jenkins for $3,600. W. L. Jenkins will move to this place in the near future.

Iri Cheatham and Misses Verna Rodgers and Nora Cheatham spent last Sunday at the home of Mrs. C. R. Cheatham.

Mrs. Mary Bradshaw, of Seattle, Wash., is visiting Mrs. T. E. Wilson.

Many of our young people attended the party given at the home of William Busby in honor of his son, Lefe, who is a United States soldier. He has returned to his post of duty in New York.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effort, that in three days I felt like a new man and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at C. J. Haydon's drug store; price 50c.

MOORESVILLE.

A protracted meeting was closed at the New Hope Baptist church last Saturday. There were seven additions to the church by baptism and three by letter. The baptizing occurred Sunday morning.

Farmers are busily engaged gathering corn.

Mr. A. U. Eddleman is erecting a nice residence.

The telephone exchange has been put in at Mr. James M. Wall's, and the wires will soon be up; then what a time we will have "holloing."

Madam Rumor has it that we are to have two more weddings in this neighborhood pretty soon.

Mr. James Hayes, of Mayple Hill, and Miss Lydia Hinton, of Maud, were married in Mooresville on Wednesday last.

of last week, Rev. Samuel Hill officiating. Hand in your subscriptions to The Sun, the National Daily Review and the Weekly Courier-Journal. W. O. Ellis, Mooresville, is an authorized representative. All three papers $1.90. Mr. Cliff Kidwell and Miss Emma Chesser were married at the residence of Bro. U. H. Yancey last Sunday. Bro. Yancey officiating.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 50c at C. J. Haydon's drug store.

Two men were killed by an explosion in a powder factory at Edwards, Ill.

A Cold On The Chest

Is Always Uncomfortable and Often Dangerous

This is the season for colds, and you will be wise to provide yourself with a bottle of "MENTHOLATED" Cough Syrup. Neglect of a cold in its early stages is worse than carelessness. A well-known lung specialist called it

Constructive Suicide

We guarantee that this cough medicine will quickly cure a fresh cold, and will relieve even the most obstinate cough of long standing. The price is only 25 cents per bottle. Lots of other kinds and other medicines here.

C. J. HAYDON
CORNER DRUG STORE

BUGGIES CHEAP

DON'T BUY A BUGGY
until you've seen what
I now have in stock.
I will make you a special price on every vehicle in my house for the next few weeks.

J. B. ROBERTSON.

BUGGIES CHEAP

Meats

Below we print a sort of a "meat directory." Anything you want, any time you want it:

Roast
Steak
Pork Roast
Pork Chops
Fresh Sausage
Mutton Roast
Mutton Chops
Veal Roast
Veal Chops
Veal Cutlets
Pickled Pig Feet
Pickled Bologna
Ham
Breakfast Bacon
Mince Meat
Fish Every Thursday
Oysters Wednesday

CARPENTER'S Meat Market

Local News Notes.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week the Knott Company will sell all $2 hats at $1 and all $1 hats at 50c.

New crop New Orleans and Sorghum Molasses at Hagan Bros.

Jeans pants, worth $1.25, at 98c, for Monday, county court day. Everybody come, I can save you money.

P. J. THOMAS.

The handsomest line of Christmas presents is to be found at Hagan Bros.

There will be a prayer meeting at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving morning at seven o'clock; all are very cordially invited to attend.

Mr. G. Len Spalding, who was formerly engaged in the manufacture of cigars at Lebanon, has been adjudged insane. Mr. Spalding is well-known in Springfield, and has many friends here who regretted to learn of his sad malady.

Have you seen the Christmas goods at Hagan Bros.

GOOD LUCK.—Mr. W. K. Marks and son, Perry, spent a few days last week in Adair county on a hunting expedition. They killed over a hundred birds.

Great bargains from now on on my entire stock to make room for holiday goods, which will arrive next week. Now is the time to get your gloves and underwear cheaper than ever before.

P. J. THOMAS.

An extra nice line of trimmed hats at $2. The Knott Co.

You are invited by Hagan Bros. to come in and see their Christmas goods.

MESSRS. C. M. TURNEY and Lee Riley, Jr., who recently purchased the livery business of Hayden & Thompson, have taken charge. They are both accommodating gentlemen, and the Sun predicts for them the same lucrative business which Hayden & Thompson have enjoyed.

Hon. W. C. McChord left this morning to attend a meeting of the Burley Growers Company. At this meeting it will be known whether or not the company will be organized, and we hope to be in position to give our readers something definite next week.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held at the Baptist church, at 10:30 a. m. Rev. T. D. Latimer will preach the sermon. The singers from the different churches have been busy preparing special music for the occasion. An enjoyable and helpful service may be expected.

LARGE PURCHASE.—The Springfield Poultry Company have bought and slaughtered 3500 turkeys during the past two weeks. M. H. Jones, informs the Sun that the turkeys are much better this season than usual. They will soon be on the market for Christmas turkeys.

DEATH OF COLORED MAN.—Lud W. Beam, a respected colored man, of Maud, died last week after a brief illness of appendicitis. For a number of years he was president of the Springfield Colored Fair. He had led an honorable life and was respected by a large number of white people.

Mr. T. F. Parrott has advertised in this issue his stock of harness and farm gearing for sale at cost. See him before buying.

SELLS HOG FOR $500.—Mr. G. Murrell Middleton, Monday sold to Mr. William Green, of San Marcos, Texas, his prize winning yearling boar, Premier Baron, No. 77857, for $500. Says the Shelby News. This is probably the highest price Berkshire boar ever sold Kentucky. Premier Baron was a winner at the St. Louis Fair as a pig and as a yearling at the Indiana State Fair this year, defeating the great Hood Farm yearling at the Indiana State Fair for which $1,000 has been refused. Mr. Middleton has also recently sold Loyola's Premier, a son of Premier Baron 77857, to head the noted herd of C. T. Graves, of Maitland, Mo. Mr. Graves had charge of the Jersey Dairy Cattle Test at St. Louis and is quite a noted stockman.

It will pay you to see Hagan Bros. Christmas china.

DOG LEGISLATION.—Farmers over the State are again discussing "that dog law" which they want the next Legislature to pass. A bill has not been drafted, but the main points to be asked of the Legislature is a law requiring each owner of a dog to pay a specified tax with each county as a unit. The money is to be held by the county treasurer and disbursed by him to the farmers who suffer losses from dogs. The fund thus acquired is to be known as the sheep-killing dog fund. The tax upon each dog will likely be placed at something like $5 and in course of a few years a sufficient sum ought to be gathered to meet all emergencies, or on the other hand there will occur a big slaughtering of canines.

Don't fail to visit the Knott Millinery Parlors Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Benedict Clements has bought the farm of Mr. John D. Roberts, in the Clements neighborhood. Mr. Clements was recently engaged in the mercantile business at Uniontown, Ky.

Rock candy and brandy for colds. Russell County Brandy. None better. J. F. GREENE.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—Mr. R. M. Thompson has been appointed by the Board of Directors as Superintendent of the Grundy Orphanage, and will take charge of the home January 1. Mr. Averill, present Superintendent, was not an applicant, hence the change. The people of the county have formed an excellent opinion of Mr. Averill and regret very much to see him and his excellent family leave.

Claybrooke & Durrett shipped a carload of fine cattle to Jersey City last week.

DEATH OF AN INFANT.—James R., an infant son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Clements, of near town, died Monday evening at about 5 o'clock, and its place was interred yesterday evening in the Catholic cemetery here. The child was a month old and had been ill since birth.

Russell County Brandy—the best in the world. Rock candy and brandy, no better remedy for colds. J. F. GREENE.

CAMPBELL'S SALE REPORTS.—The Thos. Scroggins sale on last Saturday was not largely attended, and everything sold at a low price. Corn brought 32c, four hogs $27.40, one cow, $15.25, one calf $9.25, one calf $4.50, one pig $4, one horse $27.50. Household goods sold very low.

Danville court day sales were very limited. The horse sale at Fox & Logan's stable was well attended. Two-year-old colts sold at 3c and 3 1/2c, yearling steers at 2c and 3c; cows from $15 to $20.

MARRIED.—Mr. Frank Sanabury and Miss Cora Johnson were married at St. Rose yesterday. Both the bride and groom are well known in their respective communities and have numerous friends who extend congratulations.

The house and lot, and vacant lot adjoining of Sydney Green, deceased, also some household furniture, will be sold in Springfield, Saturday, Nov. 25. See ad in this issue.

Letter List.

List of letters remaining uncalled for the week ending November 22:

Bruce & Co., Dock Avery, Alonzo Hill, Mrs. Lottie Garten, Mrs. L. J. Kennedy, Fay McDonald (2), Mrs. Mrs. Nancy Milburn, Mrs. Frank Thomas (col.), George Sparrow, Charlie Turner, Sammie Sommers. W. A. WATERS, Postmaster.

Farm For Rent For Cash.

At Fredericktown, Ky., of about 110 acres river and creek bottom land; 60 acres in corn and tobacco, 30 acres in timothy, balance oats and grass. Two tenant houses, stock barn and new tobacco barn for 7 acres. Apply to J. R. CONNOR, Fredericktown, Ky.

The safe in the post-office at Morganfield, Ky., was blown open and robbed.

LADIES!

On THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY of this week

THE KNOTT COMPANY
Will sell all $1 hats at

50c

THE KNOTT COMPANY
will sell all $2 hats at

$1.00

These prices are BELOW the actual cost of the hats.

They are stylish and up-to-date. Don't fail to attend these sales. Never before have such bargains been offered to the ladies of Washington county.

THE KNOTT MILLINERY CO.

Personal Notes.

Visitors in and Out of Town—A Round Up of the Week's Personal News.

—Mr. and Mrs. Winchester Phillips, of Lebanon, were here yesterday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Evan Rogers are in Lebanon to spend a few days.

—Mr. W. C. Rogers, of Lebanon, was in town Monday.

—Mr. Wm. Dinwiddie, of Leitchfield, was here last week on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Lampton.

—Messrs. T. E. Hardesty and W. R. Sealeman spent two days in Nelson county last week on a hunting expedition.

—Mr. F. B. Noe left Thursday for Morganfield, where he has secured a good position on the Morganfield Sun. We believe the place will suit Frank and feel sure that Frank will suit the place. He has been with The Sun since it was launched last November, and he is a valuable employee.

—Miss Minnie Osborne is visiting in Louisville this week.

—Mr. P. J. Thomas spent Wednesday in Louisville.

—Hon. W. D. Claybrooke is in Cincinnati on business.

—Mrs. E. E. Sealeman and daughter, Miss Lucy, left yesterday for Little Rock, Ark., where they will remain two or three weeks on a visit to Mrs. Sealeman's sister, Mrs. Booker.

—Miss Nellie Greene, who is attending school at Nazareth, spent several days with her parents at this place.

—Mrs. Leo Hayden and son are visiting at Bardtown.

—Mr. E. E. Hemp, wife and children, who have been visiting the family of Mr. J. F. Griene returned to their home in Louisville yesterday.

—Mr. J. B. Robertson has returned from Rome City, Ind., where he has been for several weeks undergoing treatment in Knight Sanatorium. Mr. Robertson is much improved and it is believed that the treatment he has been taking will give him permanent relief.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Marks and son, Perry, spent last week at Columbia, visiting relatives.

—Mrs. W. M. McPherson, who has been ill for several weeks of typhoid pneumonia, is improving.

—Mrs. Kate Bolderick, of Lebanon, spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Bolderick, at Walker Heights.

—Mr. A. H. Robertson, of Bardtown, was here several days last week.

—Messrs. W. D. Claybrooke, C. W. Hagan and Gwin Marks were in Lebanon Sunday.

—Mr. Harria Carrio and sister, Miss Blanche, of Howardstown, returned home last Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McChord returned home Saturday after a few days stay in Louisville.

—Mr. J. W. S. Clements, of Louisville, spent several days with his mother, Mrs. E. S. Clements, last week.

—Mr. M. H. Jones was in Lebanon last week.

—Mr. Leslie Govdy, of Campbellsville, was here one day last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McClure were called to High Grove last week by the death of their nephew.

—Mrs. T. D. Wells and children are visiting friends in Taylorsville.

—Mr. T. A. Spalding, of Bardtown, spent several days here this week and last.

—Mr. Jack McChord, who is attending school at Danville, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents.

—Miss Hadgie Brown was in Lebanon last week.

—Messrs. Rob Cleaver and Dave McElroy, of Lebanon, were here last week.

—Messrs. J. C. and H. B. McElroy were in Lebanon last Friday.

—Mrs. Exall, of Lebanon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Lewis.

—Mr. W. J. Smith, of Louisville, was here last week.

—Mr. Chas. McGill was here Friday.

—The many friends of Miss Kate Mayes will be glad to know that she is able to resume her position with Grundy & McIntire.

—Miss Margaret Litsey has returned home from Lebanon.

—Miss Lizzie Leachman, of Lebanon, who filled Miss Kate Mayes place with the firm Grundy & McIntire will go to Louisville and make her home with her sister, Mrs. Will Sweeney.

—Mrs. Sallie Hamilton and daughter, Miss Mary, of Fredericktown, were here Tuesday.

—Miss Sadie Mayes left today for an extended visit to the Misses Turpin, of America, Georgia.

—William Medley, who is attending school in Louisville, spent Sunday here.

—Mr. J. C. Shader is in Cincinnati this week.

—Mrs. S. B. Thompson entertained at each Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. H. B. McElroy was the prize.

—Mrs. Mary A. Noe, of Louisville, came out Monday to spend the winter with her children.

—Messrs. B. F. and J. F. Simms were in Danville this week.

—Mr. Frank Peters was in Lebanon Monday.

—Mrs. F. B. Noe returned home Monday after a visit to friends in Louisville.

—Mr. R. Y. McElroy, of Lebanon, was here Tuesday.

—Judge L. H. Thurman is in Greensburg this week.

—Mr. J. L. Wimsatt left Monday on a business trip through the East.

—Messrs. Fred and Will Hagan were in Lebanon Monday.

—Mrs. John Shaumy and Miss Cecil Connor, of Fredericktown, were in Springfield Tuesday.

More than 2,000 bales of cotton was destroyed in a fire at Columbus, Ga.

Midshipman J. B. Branch died at Annapolis naval academy as the result of a fist fight between himself and a fellow midshipman.

READ THIS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 7th 1901.
Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo.—Dear Sir: I suffered ten years with severe kidney and bladder trouble, and at times was unable to work. I was advised to try your Texas Wonder, and after using one-fourth of one bottle, I passed a large gravel, and I have never suffered since passing the same, three years ago. I have recommended it to many others, who reported themselves cured. I must heartily recommend it to all sufferers from kidney or bladder diseases. SAM DEAN.

One small bottle of the Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame backs, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women, regulates bladder trouble in children. If not sold by your druggist, it will be sent by mail on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months treatment and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Dr. E. W. Hall, Sole Manufacturer, P. O. Box 620, St. Louis, Mo. Send for testimonial. Sold by all druggists.

A Trustworthy

Drug Store

In nothing can the public be fooled more easily than in the quality of pure drugs. Even the druggists are sometimes fooled.

However, you can depend upon getting the right quality of everything here. We spend time, care and money to make sure that our drugs are right, and we guarantee their quality. We want this to be known as a store in which you can be confident of getting

Purest Drugs,
Scientific Compounding,
Reasonable Prices.

Red + Drug Store

SMOCK & HAYDON,

PROPRIETORS

CLOSING OUT

SALE

FOR CASH.

Buggy Harness and Farm Gearing.

I desire to quit the harness business and I am now offering my stock at COST and BELOW COST. I have a lot of excellent BUGGY HARNESS and FARM GEARING, and also a lot of Scrap Work, which you can buy at prices that will please you. Don't buy anything in this line until you see me.

Must be closed out by January 1.

T. F. Parrott.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.

It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs.

Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nerve.

"During the past winter I had two attacks of Lathrop's Nerve. It was very weak, and I had no confidence in my life. After trying Dr. Miles' Nerve, I went for a doctor. The doctor was a brother-in-law of mine. He recommended Dr. Miles' Nerve, and also brought home a bottle. I had not slept for some time, and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nerve, the pain was not so severe, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved."

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will give you the best bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

What will You READ THIS WINTER?

You will Save Money

By selecting your reading matter from The Sun's Clubbing list.

THE SUN AND

	Both per 1 yr.
Bryan's Commoner.....	$1.75
Weekly Courier-Journal.....	1.50
Weekly Louisville Herald.....	1.25
Nashville American.....	1.50
Weekly Cincinnati Enquirer.....	1.75
Weekly Atlanta Constitution.....	1.75
Semi-Weekly St. Louis Republic.....	1.75
Semi-Weekly St. Louis Globe.....	1.75
Democrat.....	1.75
Three-Week New York World.....	1.75
Home and Farm.....	1.25
American Agriculturist.....	1.25
American Epitome.....	1.50
American Farmer.....	1.50
Breaders' Gazette.....	1.25
Country Gentleman.....	2.00
Farm and Fireside.....	1.25
Farm, Field and Fireside.....	4.00
Review of Reviews.....	3.25
Lippincott's Magazine.....	2.50
Scribner's Magazine.....	2.50
Lodge Monthly.....	1.75
Harper's Magazine.....	4.35
Harper's Weekly.....	4.35
Sunny South.....	1.50

CLUBBING RATES

—WITH—

LOUISVILLE DAILIES.

The Sun and The Louisville Times one year.....	$5.00
The Sun and The Daily Courier-Journal (except Sunday).....	6.40
Same including Sunday.....	8.50
The Sun and The Louisville Herald one year.....	3.00
The Sun and The Louisville Evening Post one year.....	4.00
The Sun and The Sunday Courier-Journal one year.....	8.00
The Sun and The Louisville Herald one year.....	3.00
The Sun and The Louisville Evening Post one year.....	4.00

Address The Sun,

Springfield, Ky.

USE MARKS & STIX

Boots—Shoes—Rubbers.

Cent Last—Wear Best.

Sole-makers—E. C. BOGGS.

Heavy Horses Best For Farmers

The following are good reasons for making the draft horse our choice: First, draft horses can earn their keep at an earlier period than others; second, if the draft horse should have a spot or blemish it does not materially reduce his market value; third, any farmer can easily and properly break draft horses and fit them for market, while the proper training for carriage horses amounts to a science; fourth, in the case of heavy horses there are no excessive profits for the middleman. Canadian heavy draft horses are valued highly in foreign and western markets, and there is practically no limit to those markets.

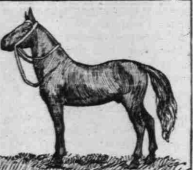

Every horse to command a good price must have large, well shaped feet and stand straight upon them, or in all likelihood he will not go straight. Pasterns must be sloping to give the horse a free and elastic movement; legs flat, clean, with no appearance of weakness.

In drafts feather of good quality and considerable quantity is absolutely necessary. The next important part is the loin or coupling. Unless a horse is strong there, no matter how well the quarters are muscled, the horse will be a hard keeper and a poor worker. Horses fat over the loin are invariably long backed and ribbed, and this conformation is never deep in the girth; consequently this type of animal has a weak constitution, because the heart and lungs have not sufficient room to do their work in times of extreme exertion. The ribs should be well sprung or the back will not be strong.

The typical draft horse of the present day must have sloping, massive shoulders, with a fairly high withers. His neck should be a fair length, with no appearance of thickness about the throat. The head indicates his disposition. It should be broad and flat between the eyes; the latter should be large, full and mild. In no case should there be any appearance of "pug head." To raise such a horse as I have described the farmers must stop selling their best mares and use good sires as can be procured strong in character, masculine in appearance and yet of good quality.—W. F. Kydd in American Cultivator.

Handsome Morgan Stallion.

This picture of the six-year-old registered Morgan stallion, Frank Allen, was taken at the Valley fair, Bartlesville, Va., in 1904. He is a true mover, from which the portrait is here reproduced. At that fair he drew first premium as best Morgan stallion, also sweepstakes with four of get. He also drew first premium at the Vermont state fair as a three-year-old and sweepstakes as a four-year-old with four of get. This horse is a true mover, has great knee and body action, and as a stock getter his colts are very promising.

FRANK ALLEN.

Frank Allen was sired by Ashler's Ethan Allen, son of Holmby's Ethan Allen, dam by Gillig's son of Ariston; second dam by Daniel Lambert, third dam by Thomas Jefferson, son of Black Hawk. In color he is a beautiful seal brown with star and snip, stands sixteen hands and weighs 1,150 pounds.

Keeping Pigs Healthy.

The pen should be cemented on the bottom, and an abundance of bedding should be used so that every bit of the fertilizing material may be saved. In order to make pork production profitable the pig's health must be carefully looked after. With plenty of sunshine, a dry, warm pen and a well balanced ration there is little difficulty in keeping the pig in a healthy condition.

Tapeworms in Lamb.

The following is recommended for tapeworms in sheep: "Oil of mace fern, one teaspoonful; half pint powder, two teaspoonfuls; turpentine, one teaspoonful; new milk, half a cupful. Give after fasting and follow with a dose of epsom salts. Feed well on oats and bran.—Michigan Farmer.

Breed and Feed.

The breeder who depends solely on inheritance is liable to be disappointed when his animals reach maturity. Liberal feeding and good care are nearly as important as good inheritance. Either one without the other is liable to result in failure.

Horse Notes.

It is easier to wash and keep the legs clean now than to cure the scratches after while.

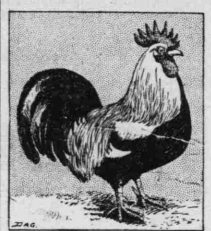

Generally it is easier to teach a horse to drive than to teach a man how to drive a horse.

A bad trick in a horse which renders him an unsafe driver is as detrimental as if he is really helpless. Moderate exercise of the colt should be begun quite early, but full service of no kind should be required until the fourth year.

Before buying a horse test his walking capacity and in order to do this hitch him to the kind of rig you intend to use him in.

Chicken Information.

The Silver Gray Dorking is a popular breed in England when first class table fowls are wanted, and there are few successful table poultry breeders who do not introduce Dorking blood into their flocks, says the London Mail. Dorkings have deep, square bodies, with broad breasts and short white legs, points which are indispensable for the ideal table bird. They have five claws on each foot and single combs. Our illustration is of a silver gray cockerel, which, as will be seen, is a very handsome bird. The back should be of a delicate pale gray, the breast being of a light brown color and the hackles striped white and black, appearing very bright. Silver grays have grown greatly in popularity of late years and are now much liked.

SILVER GRAY DORKING COCK.

Starting With Poultry.

It would be a mistake for the beginner to pay the exceedingly high prices for fowls with which to start, says Inland Poultry. The results might not be satisfactory, and discouragement and disgust with poultry follow. Five dollars will usually buy as good females as any one needs to begin with, and $10 should buy a very good male of almost any variety. Many good birds have been sold for less than this amount, though much more might be paid and prove a good investment. A five dollar bird would do very well in the fall. If nests are so situated that the eggs are not in sight of the fowls during the day the birds rarely get into the habit. Exposed nests should have a slitted curtain of heavy dark colored cloth hanging before them. The hens will find their way through the curtain to lay and after leaving the eggs are not apt to eat eggs unless they lie in plain sight.—Cor. American Agriculturist.

To Prevent Egg Eating.

Prevent egg eating by preparing for it in the fall. If nests are so situated that the eggs are not in sight of the fowls during the day the birds rarely get into the habit. Exposed nests should have a slitted curtain of heavy dark colored cloth hanging before them. The hens will find their way through the curtain to lay and after leaving the eggs are not apt to eat eggs unless they lie in plain sight.—Cor. American Agriculturist.

Good Stock Pays Best.

If one is going to breed high class poultry, it is much better to produce a few good birds than a larger number of medium quality. It pays to buy good stock—just as good as one can afford to buy. The cheapest pure bred stock that can be bought is superior to mongrel stock, but it is advisable to buy something better, if possible.—Inland Poultry.

ATTACKS OF COLIC.

What to Do to Relieve the Suffering Little One.

During the first few months some lambs are apt to have attacks of colic, often caused by indigestion. The child screams sharply, draws up his legs, and usually has a hard, tense abdomen. First warm his hands and feet and turn him on his stomach, letting him lie on a hot water bottle or hot piece of flannel. Gently pat his back to help up the wind and give him a little hot water by means of a medicine dropper. A few drops of essence of peppermint may be added to the water. Do not give him gin or herb tea.

If the attacks are frequent, the food is probably too strong. Use less cream or milk and more water when making up the food, or if the child is breast fed, give an ounce of hot water just before nursing the baby. The mother's diet should also be carefully regulated. She should take some exercise out of doors if possible and try not to be nervous. Cereals, corn, milk, eggs, grains made of corn and oatmeal, fresh fruits and vegetables, with some meat, make a good diet for a nursing mother.

The mother must invariably have a free movement of the bowels each day.—Philadelphia North American.

NURSERY NOTES.

Don't take your infants out in coats. They are very good for children over three, but younger ones need a baby carriage.

A successful method of giving children powders is to cut open a small piece of chocolate cream, insert the powder and close the chocolate again. The mother must invariably have a free movement of the bowels each day.—Philadelphia North American.

Don't curl or plait a child's hair tightly if you want it to grow long and thick. Many a scanty crop of tresses in later life is due to straining the hair while the child is growing.

Comfortable footgear for children is indispensable to the proper development of the legs. With the feet in a comparatively helpless condition it is quite impossible for the calf muscles to work properly.

Four hours is the longest interval during which children should be out of food in the daytime, and something, if it is only a drink of milk and a biscuit, should always be given them the last thing before going to bed.

WASHINGTON COUNTY BUSINESS DIRECTORY

WHEN YOU WANT TO MAKE A PURCHASE, MAKE IT AT HOME; when you want to have a job of work done, have it done at home. If you go away from home to buy, or if you go away from home to have work done, time runs out of ten you hurt yourself worse than you do the home merchant or the home mechanic. At home the merchant knows you and will not misrepresent his goods to you; he has known you for years, he is your friend, he doesn't want to cheat you, he doesn't want your money for nothing. If you have ever bought anything from a mail-order home merchant you can remember of having received different treatment. Their propositions look nice in print, but don't "come up." Pay your money "out" at home and it may "come back" again, but send it to one of the big mail order houses and it will buy costly cigars for some millionaire in a European house. The Sun begs to call the attention of its subscribers to the following businesses, conducted in Springfield and Washington county by honest and honorable men. When you want to make a purchase look over this list and select your store. You will be tickled when you compare your purchase with that of the man who brought from the big mail-order house. TRY YOUR HOME MERCHANT FIRST; THAT WILL BE TREATING HIM FAIR.

HAYDON & BARBER.

Dealers In Groceries, Hardware, Harness, Etc.

HAGAN BROTHERS.

Dealers In Groceries, Queensware, Glassware, Etc.

George B. Taylor.

General Repair Shop. Umbrella Recovering a Specialty.

T. Irvine McElroy.

Dealer In Fancy Groceries and Produce.

Conrad Hertlein.

Baker and Confectioner. The Best Meals Served.

Red Cross Drug Store.

Drugs, Stationery and Toilet Articles. Prescriptions a Specialty.

C. J. Haydon.

Druggist and Pharmacist. Pains Oils, Varnish, Toilet Articles.

ROBERTSON BROS.

Dealers In Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Etc.

C. W. Hagan.

Dealer In Groceries, Vegetables, Ice, Beer, Etc.

W. E. Leachman.

Dealer In Furniture, Carpets, Musical Instruments

James J. Graves.

Watchmaker and Jeweler. Repairing Done on Short Notice.

Grundy, Claybrooke & McIntire.

Dealers In Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes.

McElroy & Shultz.

Dealers In Hardware, Tinware, Stoves, Etc.

Ed. M. Russell.

Jeweler. Fine line Watches, Clocks, Silverware, Etc.

L. and N. Railroad Time Table.

Incoming Trains.	Sun'y only No. 91.	Daily No. 43.	Daily No. 41.
Arrives at Springfield.....	8:25 p. m.	12:40 p. m.	7:05 p. m.
Arrives at Bardstown.....	7:25 " "	11:30 " "	6:52 " "
Arrives at Bardstown Junction.....	6:50 " "	9:30 " "	5:02 " "
Leaves Louisville.....	6:00 " "	7:30 " "	4:10 " "

Outgoing Trains.

	Daily No. 42.	Sun'y only No. 90.	Daily No. 44.
Leaves Springfield.....	5:25 a. m.	7:15 a. m.	1:20 p. m.
Leaves Bardstown.....	6:17 " "	8:00 " "	2:20 " "
Leaves Bardstown Junction.....	7:05 " "	8:45 " "	3:10 p. m.
Arrives at Louisville.....	7:55 " "	9:25 " "	3:45 p. m.

Do Not Neglect a Cold.

Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold, thus paving the way for more serious diseases.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO TAKE SUCH CHANCES?

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

PERMANENTLY CURES Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Sore Lungs.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD KNOW THAT BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP CONTAINS NO OPIATES, DOES NOT CONSTIPATE CHILDREN AND WILL POSITIVELY CURE CROUP AND WHOOPING COUGH.

MRS. SALLIE LOCKMAN, Goldthwaite, Tex., says: "We have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for several years, and it always gives satisfaction. When the children had Croup and Whooping Cough it always relieved them at once, and I would not be without it in the house, as it is the BEST MEDICINE we know of."

Best Remedy for Children. Every Bottle Guaranteed. THREE SIZES: 25c, 50c and $1.00.

BALLARD SNOW LINIMENT CO., ST. LOUIS, MO.

SOLD AND RECOMMENDED BY C. J. HAYDON, Springfield, Ky.

Cream and Yellow Bedroom. One of the prettiest bedrooms imaginable in a country house was decorated in cream and yellow. It was papered with a simple design of yellow panels on a cream ground, with a blue line running lengthwise. The bedstead was of white enamel iron, trimmed with brass, and the bureau was of white, with a pale green screen and lamp of the same hue, completed the furniture. The washstand stood in a small alcove, and a portiere of Japanese crepe in cotton, with a design in delicate yellow, separated it from the room. In front of the bed was a rug of soft silk rugs. These articles furnished a cozy and a wide in comparison with most bedroom attics.

Women and Golf. "I've often wondered why women should take to go golf," remarked a cynical bachelor as he watched a woman champion making a record drive. "Golf is, in my opinion, not a game for women at all. Women are awkward at it—at times they are positively ridiculous, and even when they contrive to play gracefully they are much less graceful than men golfers or than women croquet players, tennis players or carrom players."

"But, if women will play—and I suppose they will—they ought to limit themselves severely to playing with the members of their own families rather like to see a daughter golfing with her father, or a husband and wife or mother and son playing together. But I do think a girl who wants to captivate a particular man should shun the golf links as she would a plague spot."—New York Tribune.

Subscribe For The Sun. $1.00 Year.

Subscribe For The Sun. $1.00 Year.

Dr. W. F. Trusty, Practical Dentist, Springfield, Kentucky.

Dental work at reasonable prices. All work guaranteed. Office over Hayden & Barber.

Dr. J. M. Burton, Resident Dentist, Teeth Extracted Without Pain. CROWN WORK A SPECIALTY.

All Dental Work Strictly First-class. Springfield, — Ky. Office in Hagan Block, up stairs.

B. D. LAKE, Insurance Agent, Springfield, Kentucky. Life, Fire and Accident.

Old Massachusetts Mutual, always reliable and the best dividend-paying company in the world. Your insurance solicited.

Dr. J. H. Lampton, Office—In Opera House, Springfield, — Kentucky.

DR. J. C. MUDD, OFFICE OVER C. J. HAYDON'S DRUG STORE. Springfield, — Kentucky. OFFICE HOURS: 12 M. to 2 P. M.

Dr. J. H. Hopper, Springfield, Ky. Office in Hagan Block—Up stairs. Phones: Residence, 71; office, 97.

MISS ELLA ADAMS, NURSE, TELEPHONE: Day, 49. Night, 107.

T. SCOTT MAYES, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Springfield, Ky.

Will practice in the courts of Washington and adjoining counties and in the courts of Appeals and Federal Courts.

C. C. McCHORD, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Springfield, Ky.

Will practice in all State and Federal Courts.

W. D. CLAYBROOKE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Springfield, Ky.

Will practice in the courts of Washington and adjoining counties and in the courts of Appeals and Federal Courts.

W. E. SELEMAN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Springfield, Ky.

Will practice in the courts of Washington and adjoining counties and in the courts of Appeals and Federal Courts.

H. E. WALTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Springfield, Kentucky.

Collections a specialty. Will practice in the courts of Washington and adjoining counties.

S. M. CAMPBELL, AUCTIONEER, Springfield, Ky.

Crying of public sales a specialty. "Will go anywhere." Terms reasonable. Phone 84.

HAYDON & THOMPSON, Undertakers and Embalmers, Springfield, Kentucky.

Phone, 18.

We carry in stock a full line of Burial Robes and Caskets.

We are Fully Equipped.

It will be our earnest endeavor to show the people every kindness.

A false Emperor has appeared in Russia and already has a following of 50,000 agrarians.

The official majority of E. J. Dempsey, Democratic Mayor-elect of Cincinnati, is 3,123, and his plurality over Gordon, Republican, is 8,520.

Burglars blew open the safe in the post-office at Morganfield and got away with $182 in money orders and several dollars worth of stamps.

Bear Boys at School

"YOU WILL BE DUNCES, BOTH OF YOU."

YES, progress was arriving at Happy Hollow. As far back as the oldest animal could remember a wolf had been a wolf, a fox had been a fox, a bear had been a bear. There was no such thing as a youngster becoming wiser than his daddy. There never had been any trying to do things except in the good old fashioned way. And so the seasons came and went. If blackberries were plentiful or if Daddy Bear chased to find a bee tree richly stocked with honey, why, then the little bears and the big bears all fared well. In poor seasons they ate plainer food—still it was Happy Hollow.

But now progress was coming. There was one sure sign of it. An overbearing young bear who had traveled and of course had seen something of the world was trying to convince the bears of Happy Hollow that they were far behind the times. He, for one, was going to start a school. Then the bears who did wish to be up to date might come and get some ideas through their woolly rates.

The way this upstart talked to bears who were old enough to be his great-grandparents was most astonishing. It was worse than that—it was disrespectful, for didn't they know more in a forenoon than he did all summer—that is, more about things that bears really need to know?

If there had been a vote on the question, the older ones, to a bear, would have voted against the school, but this wiseacre didn't ask for a vote; he didn't even ask advice. He just sent around word that the school would be opened, and of course all the young bears were simply wild to go.

"It is a sure sign of progress," said the old bears as they doubtfully and definitely shook their heads. They had heard a very old story of how some monkeys who once set out to improve themselves had become human beings. They sincerely hoped no such unhappy disaster would overtake these reckless bears and their newfangled schoolteacher.

And did the young bears listen to the advice and wisdom of their elders? Not for an instant! Go to school they would and go to school they did. They were really what you might call headstrong and ill behaved. The mothers had awful times getting them ready, for of course they must all have clothes. Who ever heard of their going to school just in their bear skins!

Among the youngsters of Happy Hollow were Jason Bear and Jerry Bear. Two more lively creatures it would be difficult to scare up in the woods anywhere. Like all their neighbors, they were going to school. Their mamma had been coaxed and teased until she made them a sailor suit apiece. Really, they did look cute as they started off down the path hand in hand, little round sailor hats on their heads, their suits all spick and span. We must excuse their mamma if she left just a little proud of her two boy bears.

School was to commence at 9 o'clock, so the master had said. "Just think!" growled Jerry and Jason's papa. "We shall all have to get clocks and watches to know when it is time to start these little rascals to school. I tell you, this progress is an expensive thing. I never had a suit of clothes in my life. If Jason and Jerry are as hard on clothes as I think they will be, a suit will not last them one summer."

Well, the two bears went along for while like two tiny Sunday school boys, so proper and careful. Then suddenly Jason caught a glimpse of Betsy Bunny, sitting up with her hind legs and staring with all her might at the two young dandies. Betsy Bunny usually was a bear when she saw it.

And also knew enough to keep out of its way. But these queer animals, talking on two legs—what were they? Bunny was trying hard to make out.

"Wah!" growled Jason Bear. And with a nimble spring he was down on all fours in a chase after the rabbit. Bunny soon led him into a dense thicket, where he not only lost track of her, but tore his new clothes almost into ribbons.

"Oh, my!" exclaimed Jerry when he saw Jason. "You won't catch a thing when you go home tonight!"

"I didn't catch a thing this morning, either," replied Jason, with some wit. They ambled along until they came to a fine blackberry patch. The berries were ripe and juicy, and the two cubs were soon snacking their chops as they ate. They were there much longer than they thought, for a little bear, you know, has a very large tummy. Jerry got his white and pink waist covered with stains all down the front.

At last they reached the school, over an hour late. The master looked so stern, wearing glasses and a skullcap, that their teeth fairly chattered. They had run themselves out of breath to make up for lost time, and their tongues, which were lolling out, were stained purple from the blackberries. If there had only been others who were late Jerry and Jason would not have been so terribly scared. And this was their first day too.

The master roared at them as they entered: "Come forward, you scamp! How dare you enter school at this hour?" He raised himself halfway out of the big revolving chair where he sat, and the boy bears could see that he had a good sized cane in one hand. They could find no words to explain, for they knew they had no excuse. "You will be dunces, both of you, as long as you live," growled the angry master. "I have no place for such as you in my school. Get out!"

And he whacked his desk such a blow that Jerry and Jason jumped three feet straight into the air. Then handling them each a dunce cap he commanded them both to sit on the one dunce stool all day.

Very unlimbly they scampered to the high stool, for the sight of the club was terrible to them. So provoked was the master that he did not hear their lessons once.

When Jason and Jerry reached home that evening—both no matter. The boys certainly learned several things the first day they went to school—Washington Star.

Lost Her Bear.

The sheep's case is put down for a model of stupidity, but a gentleman who has just returned from a three years' trip in the west tells the following story: "I was on horseback a great part of the time and often visited large sheep ranches. One day while riding along a mother sheep trotted up to my horse bleating pitifully. At last I made out that there was something wrong toward the left. I followed the sheep in that direction, and soon found the cause of her distress. Her lamb had fallen into a shallow pit and could not get out. I lifted the little thing up, and the grateful mother's sheep's eyes will always be a source of consolation to me."

A Riddle.

Why is a kiss like a scandal? Because it goes from mouth to mouth.

Looking Backward.

My, when vacation time began it seemed so long ago. But now that it's all over it seems awful short to me.

If I could only have it all to do all over, say:

I bet you that I'd have some fun planned out for every day!

TREATING YELLOW FEVER.

Washington Woman Tells How to Handle Stricken Patients.

A Washington woman who passed through three yellow fever epidemics and who nursed hundreds of patients kept a record and scrapbook of her experiences, says the Washington Post. At the outset she declares that her experience has taught her that yellow fever is very curable and requires to be treated differently from most fevers. All strong medicines and drugs, she says, are to be avoided as much as possible. The main point is to recognize the first symptoms, which in themselves are so simple that many people have had the fever several days before discovering it, and the danger lies at the start in letting it run too long before beginning treatment.

As soon as the disease is recognized the nurse must see that the patient is put to bed instantly and given a dose of castor oil, the first and only dose of medicine necessary. The object from that time on is to keep the patient in a mild perspiration, induced by orange leaf tea, and to prevent vomiting mustard plasters are placed upon the back and stomach. Talk and company are excluded. Drafts are avoided, by keeping three sides of the bed inclosed in sheets, yet at the same time fresh air must be insured by opening the windows open. Thus the directions read through many pages from the first day to the ninth, when all danger is past.

The use of champagne in yellow fever might be regarded as a joke, but as a matter of fact this lady used it with pronounced success. It is a light dry wine such as the patient on about the eighth day can retain on his stomach, when whiskey or brandy or even port wine would be too strong and heavy. Patients must not be allowed to eat too much, yet at the same time care must be taken to avoid starving them, for in that case they are in danger of dying from overeating during convalescence, a thing which, according to this lady, happened in numerous cases in Galveston during one of the epidemics.

Perspiration, she says, must be kept up, yet at the same time care must be taken to avoid sweating the patient to death, when the time comes to move the cover this must be taken of gradually. All the remedies must be mild, milk must be avoided and care taken to keep the patient's digestive organs in a condition as near normal as possible. The treatment given by this lady has been followed with success, with minor variations, by other experienced nurses in the south for a century or more.

She saved dozens of lives by this treatment.

How to Undress Under Water.

Should one have the misfortune to fall into the water with one's clothes on they form a considerable embarrassment, not to say, in some circumstances, a source of great danger. Says the Pittsburg Press, hence it is well to practice undressing oneself in the water. To take off a coat, trend water and throw off the coat. Boots are disposed of one at a time—lying upon the back, paddling with one hand and undoing the buttons or laces with the other. When they are done, push the boot off by pressing with the toes of the other foot upon the heel of the boot that is being cast away. Trousers are disposed of with a few strokes, undoing the braces or belt as quickly as possible. The trousers may now be slipped down to the knee. Next, paddle with the hands and shake the feet, which allows the garment to slip off.

How to Make Jelly of Concord Grapes.

To make Concord grape jelly put the fruit in a large double boiler without adding any water and fill the outer vessel with boiling water. Cover and cook until the grapes are so well cooked that they burst. Rub through a strainer, then strain through a fine jelly bag. Measure the juice and allow a pint of sugar to each one of juice. Put the sugar in shallow pans in the open oven, stirring often to prevent scorching, until it is heated through. Put the juice into a preserving kettle and boil steadily for twenty minutes. Turn in the hot sugar boil one and pour into jelly glasses set in a pan of hot water.

How to Take Breathing Exercise.

To take breathing exercise stand erect and relax with the hands falling at the sides and a cane held crosswise in front. Then inhale slowly, drawing a deep breath, at the same time raising the cane gradually until the arms are stretched above the shoulders, when no inhalation shall be heeded, says the Brooklyn Times. Then, with a sudden letting go of the breath, drop the cane quickly to the back and pause a moment. This exercise of slow value to girls and boys with narrow chests or delicate lungs.

How to Rest.

To understand how to rest is of more importance than to know how to work. The latter can be learned if one will give one's mind to it, but the former is a faculty some people never acquire. Rest necessitates change of scene and activity. Languishing is a very often thing which has been wrong out in vinegar. This should be renewed every day.

How to Keep Warm.

Meat will keep in the hot weather for many days if it is hung in a current of air and covered with a muslin which has been wrung out in vinegar. This should be renewed every day.

How to Cleanse Boots.

Equal quantities of molasses, vinegar and sweet oil mixed with a little lampblack cleans boots admirably.

Their Elopement

Original.

"What is this story, Rodrigo, about your having planned an elopement with the ranchman's daughter?"

"Oh, senior, let us not talk about it."

"Come, tell me about it."

"Well, senior, I don't like to, but I must I must. Because Arango had a good ranch and several thousand sheep he must expect to wed his daughter to some granchero. He was a shepherd, and Juanita was his only child. If he had had a son he would not have been so careful of her. As it was watched her more carefully than his sheep, which ranged where they liked. But Juanita was never allowed to leave the ranch lest she meet some young fellow without any property and, losing her heart, make it unpleasant for the old man and his plans. I had some capital in Arango's hands, and he relied on me to keep the sheep from freezing or starving and to do the selling. I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

"Patience, senior. I am coming to that. What you suppose Arango do to me? I could not see why he would not favor me for a son-in-law, but he did not. True, I am twenty years older than his daughter, but that is not all. I ask him honorably for his daughter, but he did not want her to marry me older than himself? I acted very honorably with Arango. I asked him for his daughter's hand without having first spoken to her, instead of acting like an American and getting the girl's heart without permission."

"But did you not try to run away with the girl?"

TIME and TIDE

WAIT FOR NO MAN.

If you are behind-hand in meeting your engagement, it isn't my fault, if you wear one of my watches, it tells you the precise time of day.

GET THE PIECES

save anxiety, because they can be relied upon. My guaranteed watches are as cheap as many that are unreliable.

PRICE THEM AND [SEE]

James J. Graves

THE JEWELER.

HOT WATER BAGS.

How to Care For These Household Emergency Friends.

Hot water bags are not cheap things to buy and are rather easily put out of order, but this in nine cases out of ten is carelessness or not taking proper care of the bag. A lady had an india rubber bag that had got stuck together, and she did not know what to do to get it right, as the bag was otherwise perfectly good. The reason of its sticking is that the bag had been put away with no air in it. When not using a bag drain out the water, let it hang bottom side up for a little while, then take it down and blow a little air into it, just enough to keep the inside from coming together, as it would if no air were in it, which causes the bag to stick. It is a good idea to have a rubber bag to be relied in pulling it apart. If you happen to have a bag in this condition put into it some hot water with a few drops of ammonia. Let it remain a few minutes, then with a thin, dull edged piece of wood try to separate the adhering sides very carefully.

In preparing the hot water bag to use quite boiling water should not be put into it, and neither should it be more than half filled. After the water is in it, before putting in the stopper, carefully press out the steam. This makes the bag softer, as it is relieved of the pressure the steam makes. Never fold a rubber bag after it has once been used. A flannel bag for covering the rubber is very useful and very easily made—Washington Star.

The corner stone of the McKinley monument, the gift of the American people, was laid at Canton, O.

Chamberlain's

The Children's Favorite
Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough.

This remedy is famous for the cures it cures a large part of the population. It contains no opium, and is safe for all ages. It is given as a condiment to a baby as an adult. Price 25 cents; Large Size, 50 cents.

"I have no pinkie," she said. "I loved a girl who loved me. I would elope with her."

Then for the first time it occurred to me to have revenge on Arango for his insult. Besides, if I marry his daughter I must some time share her property with her. So I say to Blanca that if she will help me I will carry off Juanita.

"That is easy," she said. "All you have to do is to provide relays of horses to the railroad fifty miles away. I will contrive to get Juanita off the ranch to you, and you can get a train before the old man knows of his daughter's escape."

"In a few days all was ready. I had arranged to have a buckboard with the swiftest horse on the ranch near the entrance to the ranch at 11 o'clock at night, and the two girls were to meet me there. I asked Blanca what reward she expected for her disservice, and she said she would accept only through friendship for two lovers. I told her that she must go with me and live with us as long as she liked. The truth is I was more in love with her than Juanita, but Juanita would have the ranch some day, and it would have been very foolish for me to give her up for Blanca, who told me that she had no money at all. Don't you think so, senior?"

"By all means. Go on."

"On the night we were to run away I waited under a clump of trees with the buckboard, for the moon was so bright that I could see everything. They must have had trouble in carrying out their plans to get away, for it was nearly 12 o'clock before they came. When I saw two girls running toward me, I thought of Arango laughing at me, and I laughed out loud myself. Along came the girls in the moonlight, Blanca pulling Juanita after her.

"When they came up to the buckboard I said:

"Be brave, Juanita. You will never regret this action."

"You will not, sweetheart," said Blanca. "He is right."

"Blanca put her hand into the buckboard while I held the reins. The horse started too soon, and I was obliged to attend to him exclusively. When I turned Blanca stood before me in a woolen shirt and trousers, covering me with a revolver.

"What do you want?"

"What should I do? Blanca was a man and had planned to run away with Juanita himself."

"Were they forgiven?"

"Yes; the old man thought it so good a joke on me that he wrote them to come back."

BRUCE PARKER.

Funeral Director

Licensed Embalmer,
SPRINGFIELD, - KENTUCKY.

Best Attention.
Every courtesy shown.

Handsome Line of Caskets and Burial Boxes.
Telephone: Day, 19; Night, 74.

Peoples Deposit Bank,

Springfield, - Kentucky.

ORGANIZED DECEMBER 1889.

CAPITAL $50,000.

Surplus and Profits $20,000.

OFFICERS:

Geo. D. Robertson, - President.

Don. H. Thomas, - Vice-President.

J. A. Robertson, - Cashier.

Wm. M. McDonald, - Asst. Cashier.

H. C. Lee, - Book-keeper.

DIRECTORS:

Geo. D. Robertson, and J. Graham.

Judge J. H. Thomas, G. L. Hayden,

W. M. McDonald, and others.

Your Banking Business

Satisfactorily

Guaranteed.

THE FIRST

National Bank,

—OF—

SPRINGFIELD, - KENTUCKY.

CAPITAL $50,000.

Surplus and Undivided

Profits $25,000.

OFFICERS:

B. L. Lister, - President.

John W. Thomas, - Vice-President.

W. M. McDonald, - Cashier.

J. A. Robertson, - Asst. Cashier.

H. C. Lee, - Book-keeper.

DIRECTORS:

B. L. Lister, and J. W. Thomas.

John W. Thomas, G. L. Hayden,

W. M. McDonald, and others.

We grant every favor consistent with safe banking. If you have not already an account with this bank we invite your patronage.

—OF—

Lao HATCH. R. B. Thompson, Jr.

HAYDON & THOMPSON,

LIVERY, FEED AND SALE STABLE.

Springfield, Ky.

Nice Outfits For Traveling Men.

Phone 18.

Farm Bargains.

191 acres, in Mercer county, on pike; handsomely improved, fine land, near railroad, and new flour and grist mill over river from farm with good trade. Both farm and mill for $12,000.

3 acres, 96 acres, with 5-room house, good land, near Mackville, $2,300. 96 acres on county road, near Mackville, improved, $2,000. 127 acres at Cardwell, on pike, well improved, $2,000.

166 and 196 acres, Washington county farms, highly improved, both bargains at price, $60 an acre. 310 acres, Mercer county farm, as good as any $100 land, price, $60 an acre. 171 acres, Mercer county farm, near railroad, fine grass land, only $30 an acre. 216 acres, Mercer county, splendid property, highly improved, on pike only $35 an acre. And many other properties. Write me if you wish to buy or sell.

EDW. Real Estate Agency, Harrodsburg, Ky.

Carriage Trimming

Harness Repairing

Saddle Repairing

We are prepared to do work of this nature in the best and most satisfactory manner. Nothing but the best material used, and satisfaction guaranteed.

An old buggy top made good; an old saddle made comfortable; a new set of harness made strong.

That is what we guarantee.

That is what you may expect.

Give us a trial.

ALLEN & BEGEMAN.

CARDWELL.

Turkeys are all gone at this place. The highest price paid was 114 and 20 on the head.

Several from here were shipping in Harrodsburg last week.

Mrs. W. H. Littrell and Mrs. J. T. Mobly visited at S. O. Milton's last week near Harrodsburg.

Little Goldie, May Williams, has the whooping cough.

E. G. Holiday and J. A. Kyler went to Danville Monday with two nice horses, which they will enter in the sales at B. G. Fox stable.

Mr. Bert Lambert and family have moved to Mayo.

Mr. E. T. Perkins and family visited Albert Tatum Friday and Saturday at Harrodsburg.

The infant of W. L. Graham has been very sick for several days but is better at this writing.

Mrs. R. L. Kyler sold fifty-eight turkeys at 114 and 20 on the head. They brought her $11.84. Who says there is no money in turkeys?

Mr. Robert Cunningham sold his farm of 80 acres to Goldman Patterson, Jr., for $25 per acre. There are thirty acres of Chaplin river bottom on this farm.

E. G. Holiday bought of W. L. Graham a five-year-old horse for $125.

S. H. Gardner bought of E. W. Sommers a seven-year-old mare for $110.

J. Durr bought of N. Oldham one two-year-old filly for $88.

J. R. Ward from Abner Foster one cow and calf $35.

LONG RUN.

Mr. John Cocanougher is at home now after ten weeks stay with his son, who has the fever.

Mr. Bert Coyle, of Springfield is with his brother, J. M. Coyle, this week.

Mr. Jim Best is on the sick list.

Mrs. Laura Best and daughter, Mrs. Ida Coyle, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. James Best.

Miss Mattie Begley spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Ella Montgomery, of Springfield.

Mrs. Parlee Cocanougher has returned home after a week's stay with her son, Mr. Magnus Cocanougher.

The prayer meeting at Beech Grove is getting along nicely. All invited to attend.

Miss Letitia Carpenter is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Katie Coyle, this week.

Little Katie Best spent Saturday night with her great-grandmother Cocanougher.

Turkeys are selling at from 114 to 124 cents.

The hunting season has opened, but rabbits and birds are scarce.

Owning to the dry weather there is not much corn in tobacco.

Corn is selling at $1.75 to $2 per bushel.

Just over the Washington county line at Antioch church the Methodist brethren are having a good meeting.

There will be a Thanksgiving service at Pleasant Hill church. All are invited.

WHITE'S Cream Vermifuge

THE GUARANTEED WORM REMEDY

THE CHILDREN'S FAVORITE TONIC.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. THE GENUINE PREPARED BY BALLARD-SNOW LINIMENT CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

PROFIT IN DUCK RAISING.

A Class of Poultry Well Adapted to All Sections.

Comparatively few persons in the poultry business raise ducks. A great many more might do so. There are some distinct points to be noted, says V. M. Crouch in American Poultry Advocate.

With us here on Long Island the Pekin is the most popular variety—in fact, about the only breed that is kept—but that does not prove by any means that it is the best for every locality and under all circumstances. When really good ducks are produced the demand for them is enormous.

Ducks are well adapted to all sections and a few can be profitably grown almost anywhere. The houses need to be built the same general plan as those for chickens. Although ducks are a water fowl, they require well drained and dry houses. A building ten feet wide by eight feet high, eight feet high in front and five feet in the rear makes a nice house for ducks.

The necessary fixtures on the inside of the house are few and simple. For inside cover, feeding troughs, drinking fountains and shell and grit dishes complete the furnishings. No nest boxes are required. In raising ducklings, fowls only one foot high are required. Separate brooder or brooding houses, depending on the size of the flock, may be used same as for chick.

There are thousands of ducks in the country that are nothing more than common or mongrel stock. Others are called Pekins and are produced by breeding Pekin drakes on white ducks. Such stock are often very good layers, but they do not grow and mature like the thoroughbred Pekins, and their flesh is inferior after they reach market size.

For rapid growth, hardness and good layers I believe no breed of ducks surpasses the Pekin, yet there are others that approach them in a general way very closely, such as the Aylesbury and Rouen. For laying purposes the Indian Runner ducks have made some great records. They are small, snappers, hardy, and the flesh is fine in quality, but they do not attain readily. For laying they are in ducks what the Leghorns are in land fowls.

Cure For Chicken Cholera.

A small piece of well cooked corn bread, a liberal pinch of ground black pepper, three or four small pieces of cooked fat meat, several pieces of finely cut red pepper, four to eight drops turpentine (regulated by age of fowl). Soften slightly, so that it will stick together after mixing thoroughly. Force this down the throats of the fowls. Give plenty of fresh drinking water and keep corn before the fowl all the time. Isolate the fowl and repeat the dose at least four times a day, but give only two or three drops of turpentine after first dose. I have never lost a fowl when treated as above stated.

It is possible to preserve all or most of the Christmas traditions without serving a prostrating menu. Avoid having too many things to eat with the turkey and the roast pig. Certain vegetables belong to each, but there is no use in having them all. Have only one heavy dessert, plum pudding or mince with the ice cream. For a light salad course and a light soup, leaving room for the substantial without danger of indigestion.

The delicate minces that are found in pine forests can be made effective in church decorations provided the pine is properly prepared. Wound on cord or wire in such a way that the lengths are not too thick and heavy, there is nothing more suitable for festoon effects.

How to Arrange the Christmas Menu. It is possible to preserve all or most of the Christmas traditions without serving a prostrating menu. Avoid having too many things to eat with the turkey and the roast pig. Certain vegetables belong to each, but there is no use in having them all. Have only one heavy dessert, plum pudding or mince with the ice cream. For a light salad course and a light soup, leaving room for the substantial without danger of indigestion.

How to Give a Novel Dance. Some merry girls gave an entertainment last Christmas which was unique. The invitations were for "a Christmas dance," and all were asked to come in costumes representing fruits and vegetables. The rooms were decorated as for a barn dance, the mantels and corners banked with celery, cranberries, holly and bunches of yellow maize made from cane paper.

Guests and the rooms looked like an animated kitchen garden, says the Ladies' Home Journal. One girl was lovely in pale green cheesecloth and daintily trimmed with celery leaves. Another was a veritable Corn in corn color and masses of wheat and poppies. The menu was enormous but rapid of eating, potatoes, carrots and parsley. Their grotesque appearance seemed to inspire a certain humorous contagion to their spirits, and the evening was very cordially and to have been a great success.

How to Make Plum Pudding Sauce. A sauce without brandy is made as follows: One tablespoonful of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of butter, one pint of boiling water, one egg, one-half cup of sugar. Put cornstarch, egg and sugar in a bowl and mix them well. Pour over them the boiling water and stir over the fire until thick. Add any flavoring.

How to Play "Snapdragon." "Snapdragon" is a Christmas game handed down from time immemorial. A broad, shallow bowl has a quantity of raisins in the bottom, and over these alcohol or brandy is poured and ignited. The dish is then passed, everybody in turn trying to take a raisin from the flames. It requires rapidity of movement and a certain amount of courage to perform this feat, the entire company meanwhile singing the ancient song:

Here he comes with flaming bowl; Don't be mean to take his toll! Snip, snip, snip! Snip! Snip! Snip! Take care you do not take too much, Be you greedy in your clutch.

How to Make Mutton Yellow. For family use by the fat nearest the kidneys, cut it up in inch squares, put it in the oven in a spider or baking tin and let it cook till the fat separates from the scraps. Then strain it off into a dish to cool. Beef tallow is made the same way and is a sure remedy for ingrowing nails.

Moisture in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

CHURCH DECORATIONS.

How the Best Effects Can Be Secured With Christmas Greens.

Palms and other potted plants are usually used in the Christmas decorations of the church, but a much finer effect can be secured by grouping them at points away from the altar and decorating them with vines or evergreens, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. If holly is procurable it can be used about the altar and arranged along the chancel rail in a carefully artistic way and be made much more effective than any potted plants, as the latter always have a more or less formal air about them in spite of all efforts to avoid it. If you have tall palms place them in the

If both holly and evergreens and flowering plants are used do not combine them, but keep the flowers to one side. The two do not harmonize. One "kills" the other, to make use of the term which artists use to express in harmonious combinations of colors. In this case it is not so much a clash of color as it is of individuality. Holly berries and leaves require nothing in the shape of flowers to bring out their beauty, but show to the best advantage by themselves or when used with evergreens. In wreathing the chancel rails fasten the sprays to a rope or cord with fine wire or string, and do not attempt any regularity in size or shape of festoons when you come to put the wreathing in place. Aim to produce an unstudied effect.

A charming effect is produced by sprinkling the leaves of holly or evergreen with anise and sifting powdered mica over this will gladden in the evening like frost. If the supply of holly berries is limited crystallized grasses can be worked in effectively. There are varieties of shrubs growing in swampy places which bear scarlet fruit for the holly. If holly leaves are not procurable go to the florist or some person having a private greenhouse or conservatory and borrow an old plant of English ivy. Throw the ivy over the altar, letting the ends of the branches trail on the floor at sides and front.

Among the dark green foliage, which should be washed before use to bring out its glossy beauty, fasten the berries gathered in the swamp, and use grasses among them if you choose. Some of the berries may be dipped in anise and dusted with mica and combined with the scarlet clusters. The frosty white and glowing scarlet berries will well contrast with the green and heighten the effect of each other.

The delicate minces that are found in pine forests can be made effective in church decorations provided the pine is properly prepared. Wound on cord or wire in such a way that the lengths are not too thick and heavy, there is nothing more suitable for festoon effects.

How to Arrange the Christmas Menu. It is possible to preserve all or most of the Christmas traditions without serving a prostrating menu. Avoid having too many things to eat with the turkey and the roast pig. Certain vegetables belong to each, but there is no use in having them all. Have only one heavy dessert, plum pudding or mince with the ice cream. For a light salad course and a light soup, leaving room for the substantial without danger of indigestion.

How to Give a Novel Dance. Some merry girls gave an entertainment last Christmas which was unique. The invitations were for "a Christmas dance," and all were asked to come in costumes representing fruits and vegetables. The rooms were decorated as for a barn dance, the mantels and corners banked with celery, cranberries, holly and bunches of yellow maize made from cane paper.

Guests and the rooms looked like an animated kitchen garden, says the Ladies' Home Journal. One girl was lovely in pale green cheesecloth and daintily trimmed with celery leaves. Another was a veritable Corn in corn color and masses of wheat and poppies. The menu was enormous but rapid of eating, potatoes, carrots and parsley. Their grotesque appearance seemed to inspire a certain humorous contagion to their spirits, and the evening was very cordially and to have been a great success.

How to Make Plum Pudding Sauce. A sauce without brandy is made as follows: One tablespoonful of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of butter, one pint of boiling water, one egg, one-half cup of sugar. Put cornstarch, egg and sugar in a bowl and mix them well. Pour over them the boiling water and stir over the fire until thick. Add any flavoring.

How to Play "Snapdragon." "Snapdragon" is a Christmas game handed down from time immemorial. A broad, shallow bowl has a quantity of raisins in the bottom, and over these alcohol or brandy is poured and ignited. The dish is then passed, everybody in turn trying to take a raisin from the flames. It requires rapidity of movement and a certain amount of courage to perform this feat, the entire company meanwhile singing the ancient song:

Here he comes with flaming bowl; Don't be mean to take his toll! Snip, snip, snip! Snip! Snip! Snip! Take care you do not take too much, Be you greedy in your clutch.

How to Make Mutton Yellow. For family use by the fat nearest the kidneys, cut it up in inch squares, put it in the oven in a spider or baking tin and let it cook till the fat separates from the scraps. Then strain it off into a dish to cool. Beef tallow is made the same way and is a sure remedy for ingrowing nails.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.

Slanting Deep Board. construction, and the droppings can be easily scraped down a hole at the rear of the building. The merits of this device are apparent at a glance.

Ducks as Egg Producers. Ducks seem to be coming more into favor. An experiment was carried on last year in France to determine the relative value of hens and ducks as egg producers. Three birds of each sort were selected for the trial. Between the 1st of January and 1st of August the three hens laid 257 eggs and the three ducks 402 eggs. Moreover, in the autumn of the previous year the ducks had produced 215 eggs after the hens had ceased laying.

Notre in Chicken House. I have a remedy for moisture in the poultry house, writes a Pennsylvania farmer in American Agriculturist. In the fall I gather half a hundred bags of oak leaves and spread enough on the floor to cover it well. Among these I scatter the grain and watch the birds. As the birds pick the leaves apart, the moisture is absorbed. The leaves also give a pleasant odor. When filled with droppings the old ones are removed and fresh ones put in.